Propaganda Victory Won By Khrushchev

BY SEYMOUR TOPPING

Berlin—(AP)—The Soviet embassy in East Berlin held its first news conference in four years today in an effort to dramatize Russian charges that West Berlin is a hotbed of western spies against the Russian communist regime.

The Soviets trotted out two Russians—a 29-year-old Soviet army lieutenant and a Moscow circus acrobat—who they claimed had deserted to the west, broadcast for the Americans and then had a change of heart.

Russian spokesman J. W. Beburow charged that a western campaign of anti-Soviet propaganda and activity to undermine the Soviet government is "not only endangering the Soviet Union and the other socialist (communist) lands but also all humanity."

The news conference, attended by more than 300 western and communist newsmen, was another step in the new Soviet offensive to drive allied occupation forces out of West Berlin.

A reporter for the Soviet news agency Tass asked what underground agencies were working in West Berlin.

Names Agencies
The former Soviet lieutenant, I. V. Ovchinnikov, replied:

"It is well known that groups of NTS and UOPE (two anti-communist Russian emigrant organizations) are active in West Berlin."

Ovchinnikov said NTS is operating an illegal radio station in West Berlin and a printing shop where anti-Soviet leaflets are being printed.

He said NTS was using West Berlin to send balloons carrying anti-Soviet leaflets and alleged that the money for these West Berlin operations came from Americans.

Beburow said international tension would be eased if the west stopped trying to send

Sailor Held for Trial Terrorizes Mates, Wounds 1

Boston—(AP)—A 22-year-old sailor, awaiting court martial, terrorized shipmates aboard the picket ship USS Investigator today, forced three to accompany him at gunpoint and shot one during a wild ride through East Boston and Chelsea.

The sailor, Fireman Raymond J. Lizzotte of Poplar, Mont., who the navy said is a full-blooded Indian, was captured later in Providence, R. I., after he burst into a lodging house and demanded clothing.

Patrolman George Gilbert captured him a half block away after a struggle in which he knocked out Lizzotte with a punch to the nose. Gilbert said he had no time to draw his own gun when Lizzotte went for his, so he just swung.

Wounded in the affray in East Boston was Seaman Donald Hicks, 19, of Atlanta, Ga. Naval authorities said Lizzotte shot him in the jaw when he failed to follow driving instructions. Hicks was reported in satisfactory condition.

Navy officials said Lizzotte was confined to the ship awaiting a summary court martial today. They did not specify the charges.

Stops Car to Save Tot as Clothes Burn

Milwaukee—(AP)—A woman motorist abandoned her auto in the middle of a street Monday to save the life of a boy in burning clothes.

John Schultz, 2, ran from his house, his clothes aflame.

Mrs. Lori Lange, 24, happened to be driving past. She stopped her car, ran to the boy and rolled him on the wet grass to extinguish the flames.

The woman carried the boy into his home, dashed across the street to a tavern, borrowed a dime and phoned for an ambulance. The boy was hospitalized in poor condition with third degree burns.

Police said John's 4-year-old brother, James, told them John found an old Fourth of July sparkler and held it against the pilot light of a gas stove. The flash of flame set his clothes on fire.

John's mother, Mrs. Hilda Schultz, and her father, Joseph Wilding, were outdoors at the time, trying to start the family car.

Blizzards, Floods and Cold Hit Mid-America

Madison Hit Hardest by Wind in State

High winds buffeted the state Monday night, causing extensive damage to the Madison area but leaving the Fox Cities area relatively untouched.

Parts of Milwaukee were swamped in a deluge of nearly an inch of rain shortly after noon Monday. The weather bureau reported the city received 1.4 inches of rain between midnight and 4 p.m., with .8 inch reported between 12:50 and 1:20 p.m.

Two New London men were among the party of four commercial fishermen brought to shore at 10:30 a.m. today after being buffeted about in high winds on the bay when they went aground east of Pensaukee about 9 p.m. Monday. They are Naheem "Shorty" Buckarma, 49, and Ray Domke, 23.

The Wisconsin Michigan Power company credited lack of leaves on the trees for cutting down the damage in the Fox Cities area. Despite gusts up to 66 miles an hour between 2:20 a.m. and 3:20 a.m., only 32 power poles were downed in a 1,500 square mile area. No transmission lines were affected, the company reported.

Tornado Threat

A threat of a tornado or two hung over part of Wisconsin Monday night but failed to materialize, and instead, the section was raked by high winds that caused some damage.

The tornado warning for Milwaukee, Rock, Walworth, Racine, Kenosha, Ozaukee and Washington counties and the southeastern portions of Dane and Fond du Lac counties was issued about 5 p.m.

It was withdrawn five hours later, but not until Madison had been pounded by wind that reached gusts of 80 miles an hour, as measured at Truax Air Force base.

Trees and wires were knocked down and a 35 by 80 foot was lifted off a garage-storage building. An hour-long power failure brought darkness to the east side of Madison in 1972 until 1976.

Washington—(AP)—President Eisenhower today asked a favor of the man who will occupy the White House from 1972 until 1976.

Wants U. S. To Withdraw Morocco's King Would Have Forces Leave Air Bases

Rabat—(AP)—King Mohammed V of Morocco today called for the unconditional withdrawal of U.S. forces manning big air bases in the country.

Speaking at Moroccan independence day ceremonies, the king also called for the complete withdrawal of French and Spanish troops from Moroccan territory.

He asked for what he called the amputated provinces of French-held Mauritania and Spanish Rio de Oro south of Morocco's border.

American troops in Morocco are at four big strategic air force bases and the naval facility at Port Lyautey in northwest Morocco.

Negotiations have been in progress about the status of the bases and the United States has recognized that American forces will be withdrawn.

The fighters approached from behind and without warning, the note said, and "there can be no doubt that the objective of the Soviet fighter aircraft was to destroy the American plane without warning at a position far outside the Soviet frontiers."

Milwaukee—(AP)—William Rogers, 47, who said he regretted his wife's nagging, waived preliminary hearing Monday on first degree murder in the gun-slaying of his wife and 12-year-old stepson. "I want to get the whole thing over with," Rogers told District Judge Robert Hansen.

10 or More Deaths Laid To Weather

Kansas City—(AP)—Blizzard conditions crippled the northern plains today as a giant storm system rolled slowly into Canada leaving much of mid-America covered with heavy drifted snow, tornado litter and rain-swollen streams.

At least 10 deaths were attributed to one of the earliest major winter storms in weather bureau history—a turbulence that swept from Texas and Louisiana to Minnesota and Wisconsin, from the slopes of the Rockies to the Mississippi river.

The storm center moved to the Minnesota-Canadian border overnight and was expected to pass into western Ontario by evening, resulting in diminishing winds and generally improving conditions over the northern plains late tonight. Heavy snow drifting was reported over the Dakotas and northwest Minnesota making road travel hazardous.

Severe Cold

Bitter cold dropped temperatures to lows of 21 below at Alamogosa in south central Colorado, 12 below at Flagstaff, Ariz., and 6 below at Zuni, N.M., and Bryce Canyon, Utah. Low readings from Texas to Illinois were mostly in the 20s and 30s but the thermometers sagged to 7 above at Goodland, Kan., and 12 at Dalhart, Texas.

A band of rain and scattered thunderstorms stretched from the gulf coast in Texas to the Ohio-Michigan border, marking the advance edge of the cold air.

A few snow flurries remained over the Rockies and heavy rain began moving into the northwest again with snow over interior portions of Washington and Oregon.

Heavy Snowfall
Unusually severe for this time of year, the storm yesterday deposited as much as 16 inches of snow—that was at Lemmon, S. D.

Generally the depths were six to eight inches across western Kansas. Throughout the blizzard area wind gusts of as much as 50 miles an hour whipped the snow into road-clogging drifts and made driving hazardous. Roads from Kansas southward, however, were generally open to travel last night.

In the Texas and Oklahoma panhandles yesterday's snow turned to slush then froze again last night, making driving treacherous.

Russia Warned Against Attacks

Washington—(AP)—The United States has warned Russia to halt fighter attacks on American air force planes or face the consequences of defensive action by U. S. aircraft commanders.

The warning was contained in a note announced by the state department yesterday dealing with incidents earlier this month.

In the first of the incidents a U. S. Air Force jet reconnaissance bomber (RB47) was flying over the Baltic sea about 66 miles from Soviet territory at an altitude of 33,000 feet, the note said, when it was attacked by Soviet fighters.

The fighters approached from behind and without warning, the note said, and "there can be no doubt that the objective of the Soviet fighter aircraft was to destroy the American plane without warning at a position far outside the Soviet frontiers."

Recordings Accuse Teamsters Official

Witness Takes 5th Amendment When Asked About Violence

Washington—(AP)—Teamsters unionist Raymond C. Shafer took the fifth amendment today when asked by senate rackets probes whether he engineered a wave of bombings, shootings and acid throwing in Texas labor disputes.

Shafer, business manager of San Antonio-Teamster Local 657, was forced to listen then to what the investigators said were secretly made recordings of his voice admitting involvement in a wave of bombings in 1954 and 1955.

Squirring in the witness chair, Shafer refused to say whether he could recognize his voice in the scratchy sounding recordings.

Texas Ranger Zeno Smith and Buck Owens, identified one of the voices in the recordings as Shafer's, discussing among other things the payment of $1,450 to Owens for his admitted role in stealing dynamite for bombings and helping to plant the bombs.

Microphone Hidden
Smith testified the rangers had placed a hidden microphone in a room in which the conversations were recorded.

Shafer invoked the fifth amendment to questions 37 times in 27 minutes before the rackets investigating committee announced it would try to refresh his memory by playing the recordings.

Among other things, he declined to say whether Owens, a former henchman, had told the truth yesterday in swearing that Shafer once ordered the word "rat" seared with acid on the forehead of a truck driver who refused to join their union.

Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark), chairman of the committee, asked him:

"Would you say that anyone who would give such orders is a rat himself?"

Shafer flushed and replied: "I decline to answer the question on the grounds my answer may tend to incriminate me."

McClellan: "I think the word 'rat' would be complimentary, don't you?"

Again Shafer declined to answer, and Sen. Sam J. Ervin (D-NC) put in: "It would be an insult to the rat."

Shafer refused to say whether Owens, an Odessa, Texas, truck driver, had testified truthfully in saying that Shafer had engineered violence including gun fire under orders from M. W. Miller, head of the Southern Conference of Teamsters, to "get rough."

Shafer wouldn't even say whether he knows Miller.

Other questions Shafer refused to answer included whether he had tried to induce Owens to use a silencer-equipped rifle to shoot either Roy J. Gilbert, a San Antonio truck line operator, or Gilbert's son; had ordered acid dashed in the face of non-striking truck drivers, and hidden gunmen to fire with rifles on trucks of Gilbert or others.

Nor would Shafer say whether he had, as Owens swore, hired Owens to steal 32 cases of dynamite with which to fashion bombs with which to blow up trucking plants and equipment in Texas, Tennessee and Louisiana.

Jonesboro, Ark.—(AP)—Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark) says Gov. Orval E. Faubus deserves consideration as a Democratic presidential nominee.

Harris, who headed a house committee that investigated operations of several government agencies during the recent congressional session, told a Democratic party fundraising dinner here last night that Faubus had a commendable record as governor.

The congressman said he wished the national administration was "as good and dependable" as Faubus' administration.

UAW on Strike At Bendix Plants

Detroit—(AP)—The United Auto Workers today struck Bendix Aviation Corp. in a contract dispute. At least seven plants were shut down by pickets with about 12,500 production workers on strike.

Negotiations continued past the midnight start of the strike, then recessed at 7 a.m. after a marathon session of 21 hours of almost continuous bargaining.

The negotiators planned to resume talks at 3 p.m.

E. M. Scoyers, federal mediator, said the negotiators had narrowed the dispute to "a few major issues, but they are highly technical and of major importance to both parties."

Scoyers declined to discuss progress of the talks.

The 13,500 UAW members on the Bendix payroll have been working under an extension of the old contract which expired last July. Bendix makes computers, missile, aircraft and auto parts.

And the Rains Came Down. This untypical fall scene greeted motorists in several parts of Milwaukee Monday after up to 1.4 inches of rain fell. The picture was taken on the south side of the city.

Alaskan Vote Drive Enters Final Week

Democratic Victory, Salmon Trap Issue Cloud First State Election, Kennedy Calls for Party Sweep

BY WILLIAM J. TOBIN
Juneau, Alaska — Alaska's first state election campaign, boiling for nearly four continuous months, steams into its final phase this week.

A new series of issues makes cloudy at best any effort to forecast the outcome of the Nov. 25 voting, the last in the nation this year.

Two major developments, added to the campaign pot during the last 10 days, could affect the result.

The first was the Democratic victory sweep in the Nov. 4 elections in 47 states. Brushed aside were Republican hopes of controlling the next congress.

The other was an announcement by Interior Secretary Fred Seaton, stumping here for Republican candidates. He said the 1959 Alaska fishing regulation proposals would contain a ban against salmon traps.

the minority in either the house or the senate.

An Alaska senatorial delegation half Republican and half Democratic, Kennedy told audiences in four cities last week, might as well pair its votes and stay home for all the good it would do in Washington.

Republicans, including Vice President Richard M. Nixon, say Alaskans are independent and should not be swayed by the voting in other states.

They contend Alaska, in its first years as the 49th and largest state of the Union,

Offset Gains

It probably won't be known until the votes are counted whether the Republican bid for favor on the ancient Alaska fish trap issue would offset the considerable weight of the Democratic election gains elsewhere.

At stake are two seats in the United States senate, one seat in the house of representatives, and control of the state government through Alaska's first elected chief executive.

One of the senate candidates, Democrat E. L. "Bob" Bartlett, generally is conceded election. His opponent is H. E. Robertson, 72-year-old Juneau lawyer. Robertson has campaigned very little. Major interest centers on the other senate race between two former Alaska governors, Democrat Ernest Gruening and Republican Mike Stepovich.

On the basis of unofficial returns from the Nov. 4 ballot, needs congressional access to inner circles of the administration.

Seaton followed Nixon into Alaska by six days, and rattled the whole election picture with his announcement of the proposed ban on fish traps.

Seaton's announcement last Sunday was hailed by Republicans.

Calls It Phony

Democrats called it phony, because the trap ban is to be part of proposed regulations presented at hearings beginning next month. They said Seaton could abolish the traps by immediate executive order if his plans were sincere.

Seaton replied by calling the criticism phony.

Second only to the campaign efforts of Gruening have been those in behalf of Republican candidates for governor and congress, John Butrovich, Jr., and Henry Benson, both 48.

Both had a long way to go, on the basis of their vote totals in the primary.

Butrovich trailed the Democratic gubernatorial nominee, William Egan, 44, by nearly 3,000 votes. Benson was more than 7,000 behind the Democratic congressional primary choice, Ralph Rivers, 55.

As front runners, Democrats Egan and Rivers, and Republican Stepovich, have conducted close-to-the-vest campaigns. They have covered a lot of ground and met a lot of people, but have let their opponents take the hardest swings.

Cougar, Wash. — The Swift dam, one of the world's largest, was finished yesterday, and late in the winter will begin producing power.

Grange Asks Ballot on Federal Aid

Farm Organization Wants 'Self-Help' Agriculture Program

Grand Rapids, Mich. — The National Grange proposed today that producers of each farm commodity be allowed to choose by ballot the type of farm-aid program they deem best suited to the commodity.

The farm organization has suggested in convention resolutions that such programs be managed by organized producers, under guidance of the government.

The Grange declared that agriculture faces the prospect of overproduction for years to come. Hence, it said, effective ways must be found to adjust production to markets or else farmers will suffer economically.

Self-Help

"We reaffirm the Grange position favoring self-help programs developed along commodity - by - commodity lines. Therein lies the power to manage our production and our marketing in such a manner as to provide consumers with an abundance without overabundance at prices reasonable to both producers and consumers," the resolution said.

The Grange approach to the farm problem has not found favor with Eisenhower administration farm officials.

"We believe," the Grange said, "that the control of farm programs should be primarily in the hands of farmers. It is our belief that the cost of these programs should be born by producers to the extent that the benefits accrue to them. We deny that such management impairs essential freedom."

State's Rights

The farm organization called upon the state to help halt a trend toward a strong federal government by assuming their full financial and other responsibilities. It said states should be willing to pay their just share of expenses and not try to pass costs on to Uncle Sam.

Along this same line, the convention said the U. S. Supreme court has been making decisions which "appear to invade the prerogatives of states and which are generally considered as usurping the field of the legislative branch of government."

The farm organization planned to wind up its convention today. It voted to hold its 1959 convention in California. The city will be selected later.

Masonry Worker Says He Killed Girl Friend

Chicago Man Confesses He Smothered High School Sophomore, Find Body

Chicago — A 23-year-old gangling, jobless masonry worker was held by police today after they said he admitted the gruesome slaying of his former 15-year-old girl friend.

Police said Charles Melquist, self-described "big brother" of Bonnie Leigh Scott, admitted he smothered the high school sophomore with a pillow in his auto in suburban Villa Park the night of Sept. 22 after she resisted his advances.

He then disrobed her and drove to a forest preserve where he disposed of her body in a ditch.

The girl's nude, decapitated body was found Saturday by a group of Boy Scouts where Melquist said he had dumped it.

Returned to Scene
Melquist was quoted by police as saying he returned to the body on three separate occasions, the first time four days after the slaying.

"I thought I killed her in a dream," he said, "and I went to see if the body was there."

Two weeks later he again returned to the forest preserve but did not go near the body because several persons were in the general vicinity.

On the night of Oct. 30, police said Melquist related during his five hours of questioning in a lie test, he went back and severed the head from the body with a four-inch knife, and also slashed the abdomen.

Cut Head Off
"I went out that time to bury her," Melquist told police. "I had to stoop over so I wouldn't be seen from the road. I had a few drinks to get up courage. I decided to cut her head off. Then I got an urge to cut some more, and I slashed her abdomen."

He said that since the slaying he has been having "terrible dreams."

Bonnie Leigh was reported missing after she failed to

Thomson Says Nelson Seeks New Taxes

Governor Declares Democrat Ready To Betray Voters

Madison — Gov. Vernon Thomson said Monday that Gov.-elect Gaylord Nelson is preparing "appalling new taxes for everyone," and will attempt to blame the boost on Republicans.

Nelson's talk of a financial crisis in Wisconsin, Thomson said, "is little more than a careful and elaborate stage setting for a colossal betrayal of the people who voted for him on the basis of his promises of more benefits for everyone with less taxes."

He said Nelson hopes to gain time with a 1-year budget "to make the voters forget his campaign promises, to get them accustomed to the phony idea that a tax raise is not really a reversal of his campaign pledges, but rather the fault of the Republicans."

The squabble over finances began when Nelson proposed to write a 1-year budget for the state, instead of the traditional 2-year spending plan.

Nelson has said he will prepare a 2-year budget but said he will call a special session of the legislature to review spending for the second year.

Sudan's New Rulers Warn Merchants Not To Increase Prices

Army Command Says It Learned Some Firms Were Profiteering

BY WILTON WYNN
Cairo — Sudan's new military rulers warned merchants today of severe punishment if they raise prices to exploit the people.

The army command said it had learned that some merchants had started profiteering. A statement broadcast by Khartoum radio warned that exploitation could bring stiff penalties.

"This punishment will be an example to anyone who would try to destroy the army movement," the statement said.

Gen. Ibrahim Abboud, the Sudanese army commander in chief, seized power in Khartoum early yesterday. Charging corruption and political instability, he ousted Premier Abdullah Khali, dissolved parliament and abolished political parties.

Voice Support
The broadcast said messages of support for Abboud had been received from all parts of the million-square-mile nation of 9 million people.

The Cairo press, controlled by President Nasser of the United Arab Republic said the coup would not affect relations between Sudan and the U. A. R.

The newspaper Al Ahram quoted American news agency reports from London that British experts thought the coup was to forestall any Sudanese concessions to Nasser.

Egyptian Charge
Al Ahram said the west was trying to exploit the coup to its own advantage.

Western intriguers are "wasting their time and their intrigues are doomed," Al Ahram said. "The Egyptian and Sudanese people have inhabited this part of the world for a long time and will remain, but imperialism is bound to quit."

In Rome, the president of the largest Sudanese political party said last night he was surprised by the coup but trusted the army and people.

Siddiq El Mahdi, president of Khali's Umma party and son of one of Sudan's two chief religious leaders, was in Rome on a private visit and planned to fly home today. His father has already approved the army coup.

Italy Asks Ban on Surprise Raids

Geneva — Italy urged the 10-nation conference on prevention of surprise attack today to get down to business by undertaking a technical study of modern weapons of attack.

Speaking on behalf of the five western delegations, Paolo Emilio Taviani, former Italian defense minister, said such a study must be the first step in any constructive discussion of a possible alert system against surprise attack.

His proposal was an effort to break the procedural deadlock that has kept the conference at a standstill since it opened on Nov. 10.

The five Soviet bloc delegations want a discussion of a whole range of cold war disputes and disarmament questions. The west says such subjects have no place in this meeting.

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vassili V. Kuznetsov proposed negotiation of a treaty to prohibit flights of planes carrying nuclear weapons over the territory of foreign states or the high seas. This was immediately turned down by the western delegates as being completely outside the scope of the conference.

Kidding Leads To Shooting

Hagerstown, Md. — Kid-ding a train engineer over his forthcoming retirement, police say, apparently led to the fatal shooting of another engineer.

L. J. E. Piquitt of the Western Maryland Railway police said investigation of the slaying of James R. Cuddy, Jr., 41, showed that the shooting apparently stemmed from kidding that younger engineers gave the older men about to retire.

Cuddy was slain last Saturday. James T. Hancy, 68, charged with murder, is to be given a preliminary hearing tomorrow or Thursday. Both men are Western Maryland engineers.

18 Boys Report For Freshman Cage Practice

Coach Guy Krumm Notes Height Lack As Opener Nears

Kaukauna — Coach Guy Krumm of the Kaukauna High school fresh cagers found himself with problems similar to the varsity coach when 18 boys answered call for drills, most of the candidates small by basketball standards.

Only one boy is 6 foot, two are 5'9" or over and the remainder are between 5'6" and 5'8". The only consolation for Krumm is the majority of boys have some basketball experience having played in the City Grade league with either parochial or public schools.

Coach Krumm has been drilling his youths on fundamentals for early practices but now has divided the team into units in preparation for the Nov. 25 opener at Roosevelt. Most of the Kaukauna games are scheduled for Thursday afternoons with only a few dates changed to avoid conflicts with school holiday or vacation schedules.

Boys Reporting
Dan Van Dynhoven, tallest man on the squad, Dick Skiba, Mike Beardon, Dennis Kries, Dick Smith, Dave Schommer and Herman Runtz are boys from the Holy Cross school team of last year reporting and Bill Jurkovic and John Lambie are Park school representatives.

Boys reporting from Trinity Lutheran school are Jim Zuelke, Jerry Spaulding and Keith Busse. St. Mary's representatives are John Robedean, Carl Vanden Heuvel, John Smith and Don Tease. Dave Yokum, rural youth, and Ron Lacey, Combined Locks, are other candidates.

Youth Suffers Minor Injuries When Car Tips

Kaukauna — A 17-year-old Combined Locks youth escaped with minor bruises and abrasions when the car he was driving overturned on Tenth street about 8 a. m. Sunday.

According to Kaukauna police, William J. Busse, Prospect street, was traveling west on County Trunk Q when the car hit the curb on the north side of the street, bounced across the road and hit the opposite curb causing the car to tip.

The youth was treated at the Kaukauna Community hospital and released. About $500 damage resulted to the car.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"

New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity.

As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon will also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge. Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new COLONOID gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (area of constipation).

Kimberly Board Puts Approval on Budget

$39 Per $1,000 Rate Is Kept for 6th Straight Year

Kimberly — The village board approved the budget proposed for 1959 at a public hearing Monday night at the village hall, keeping the tax rate at $39 per $1,000 of assessed valuation for the sixth straight year.

Total budget is $589,670, an increase of about $70,000 over this year.

Despite the budget increase the village was able to retain the $39 rate because land value assessments were increased slightly and new home construction also increased the assessed valuation. President Alvin Fulcer pointed out that "everyone will probably pay about $10 more in taxes in 1959 because of the slight increase of land values even though the rate remains the same."

Assessor Paul Van Dyke explained that the money to be raised by property taxes will be $375,762 in 1959 compared to $355,997 this year. About two-thirds of the increase will come from the land value increase and the other third results from new construction.

In other action the board approved purchase of a bond for the clerk - treasurer in the amount of the state and county taxes. A resolution to be adopted by the regional planning commission changing from fiscal year operation to calendar year was approved.

Two ordinance changes granting increases in pay were approved. Effective Jan. 1, board members will get $10 for each official meeting instead of the $5 which is now received. This is the first pay hike for trustees since 1951.

Another amendment granted the chairman of the water commission $45 per month salary, a boost of $10 from the present rate.

Widow's Cautious Plan Good Unless Round of Inflation Hits

BY WILLIAM A. DOYLE

Q. As a recent widow with about $40,000 in cash, I have received a good deal of advice on how to invest my money. I own a home worth $18,000, free and clear, and earn about $3,000 a year at a job I have taken. I have two children. One will enter college next year. The other is employed but is not yet self-supporting.

I know that I must have safety as well as income. After listening to the opinions of various people, I have worked out what I consider a good program.

I would deposit $10,000 in savings banks at 3 1/2 per cent interest; deposit $20,000 in federal savings and loan associations at 4 per cent interest; invest $10,000 in Wellington Fund and Massachusetts Investors Trust, which I am told yield about 5 per cent.

Is this a good plan?

A. If your main aim is safety, yes. As long as you can get along on your salary, interest and dividends, you should have no worries. There will be a fly in the ointment, of course, if this country gets hit with another round of wild inflation. In that case, you would undoubtedly be sorry you didn't put more of your money into investments.

Wise Course
But, for a first-time investor, you are following a conservative and what should be a wise course.

The only place you are going off base is in expecting a 5 per cent yield from Wellington and MIT. These are both top-grade mutual funds with long records of good management. But neither makes any claim of yielding 5 per cent.

The yield on a stock is figured by dividing the dividends paid over the past 12 months by the market price. If you already own the stock and want to know the yield on your investment, you use the price you paid.

A mutual fund pays dividends from the income it receives (such as dividends and interest) on the securities it holds.

However, most funds also declare capital gains distributions from profits made by selling securities from their portfolio at higher prices than they paid for them.

No Dividends
But these capital gains distributions are not dividends. They should not be included when yields are figured. Each capital gains distribution represents a profit to the fund's shareholders.

That's one of the reasons investors buy mutual funds—so that professional management will generate profits for them.

Both Wellington and MIT allow shareholders to reinvest capital gains distributions at net asset value, with no commission charge. The smart investor, of course, does just

4 Lettermen On Cage Team At Kimberly

Kimberly — Four lettermen who combined to score over 900 points between them last year will form the core for the Kimberly High school basketball team this season.

Coach Gill Frank has been working with his squad for two weeks and the Papermakers will open an 18-game schedule at Appleton Friday night.

Lettermen returning are Jack Lamers who scored 297, Darrell Jansen, 279; Don Hearden, 265, and Dave Minton, 63. This quartet had 904 of the 1,309 points the Papermakers scored last season.

First Home Tilt
The first home game for Kimberly will be Nov. 26 when Green Bay East of the Fox Valley conference plays here.

After the two non-loop encounters the Papermakers open the Mid-Eastern conference play. Two other non-league games are scheduled after the Christmas vacation layoff. that because it's a sensible way to build for the future.

Q. On my own study and stubbornness, I bought 100 shares of Red Owl stores at $50 a share for my 5-year-old daughter. I am firmly convinced that this is a good growth stock, even if it only pays 1.60 a share in dividends each year. I am sticking to my guns on this stock. What is your opinion?

A. You sound almost as if you are expecting an argument. You won't get one from this corner.

Red Owl stores, which operates a chain of retail food stores in an eight-state area in the upper midwest and whose products are sold through franchised Red Owl agency stores, should live up to your expectations. The company has been increasing its sales volume and profit by closing smaller, inefficient stores, expanding others and opening supermarket type units.

The GOP Needs Youth

Many people have noted how many prominent Democrats today are relatively young men. Here in Wisconsin Sen. Proxmire and Gov.-elect Nelson are prime examples; others that come quickly to mind are Muskie of Maine, Kennedy of Massachusetts, Meyner of New Jersey, Leader of Pennsylvania, Williams of Michigan, McCarthy of Minnesota, Neuberger of Oregon. This list contains only some of those who have become governors or United States senators but there are many more; the Democratic ranks seemed filled with eager young men ready to run for office on the slightest provocation.

This is not so of the Republicans. The only Republican we can think of who has risen to prominence at a relatively early age in recent years is Vice President Nixon. By straining we can come up with a few others — Henry Cabot Lodge and his brother, John, for instance — but a youthful face is pretty rare among GOP office-holders and office-seekers. Gov.-elect Rockefeller of New York is a welcome addition to this small group, although he did not come up through the ranks.

Why is this so? There are probably a number of reasons, including local and regional party characteristics such as those in Wisconsin where the almost defunct Democratic party of a decade ago could offer plenty of places on the ballot to young men who wanted to rise quickly in politics, while the Republicans had been in power so long that competition had developed among older men for recognition and the younger fellows just had to wait their turn. But this was not the case in many other places; the infusion of youthful blood into the Democratic party has taken place just as rapidly in a number of states where the Democrats have held power for years as the Republicans did in Wisconsin. (The exception is the South, where the Democrats are so entrenched that one practically has to be drawing social security before getting a place on the ballot.)

We think there is a more general explanation, however. On college campuses just before and after World War II there were — then as now — young men who obviously were going to "go somewhere." They had the qualities of character, intelligence and ambition that makes successful men. Of those in this group who tended to have conservative political views and therefore would probably become Republican voters, we suspect the vast majority of them went into business or the professions; they are the successful young executives, salesmen, advertising men, doctors and lawyers of today. But of those whose political views were oriented more toward liberalism apparently a fairly large percentage decided on political careers. Perhaps this was because of the idealism and the fervor that surrounded liberalism in those times; perhaps the fact that college faculties tend to be heavily sprinkled with liberals contributed something in the way of counseling and encouragement to these young men. Or perhaps the lure was of a more prosaic nature — the college-age people of that era had known little but Democratic successes during their lifetimes, and thus tended to equate success in politics with a career in the Democratic party.

But whatever the reason, the fact remains that the GOP needs youth, and needs it badly.

Ravines, Park Areas Should be Left With Thickets, Wild Flowers

Editor, Post-Crescent:

With growing apprehension I've witnessed the filling in of that lovely ravine between the Institute of Paper Chemistry and John Street Bridge. It was with shock and deep sorrow that I saw its tall stand of trees falling before the saws, and was told that this beauty-spot, with its small stream and masses of violets, trillium, bloodroot and anemones, will be wiped out.

It has been a pleasure and relief to the eye on my daily drives. There one could recapture some happy adolescent memories on seeing occasional troops of Boy Scouts set up their tents. One could see children measuring the banks with their eyes for the excitement of a leap, or studying the depths for ever-rarer pollywog and crawfish. Every Spring I and my children have been among many who explored its hillsides for wild asparagus, and I have often found peace of spirit in sitting among flowers, shrub-tangle and birds in this vestige of wilderness.

There is a recent book, by title, as question from an adult to a child, "Where did you go?" "Out." "What did you do?" "Nothing." It pictures the deprivation to present-day youth, in contrast with the author's (and my own) childhood, when neighborhoods, towns and regions are reduced to dull sameness — when unspoiled woodland areas are too many miles away for daily, even weekly, enjoyment. A few denuded parks, with conventional play equipment, are no substitute. There one cannot find the wildlife that goes with protective thicket and unpolluted, sheltered stream. Only in such places can a child feel the upsurge of explorer's joys, the imaginative sense of Indian and pioneer. How short-sighted can we be?

I am told this ravine is being turned into a highway. Must engineers, in their passion for the shortest distance between two points, sacrifice the interest and beauty of the drive? Is "saving time" the great idea? Time for what? Time to "kill" on TV programs of increasing banality? (Sunday afternoon excepted!) Or is it "saving money" — money increasingly spent for mental health and juvenile delinquency?

Visitors to Appleton, as well as many residents, take delight in its unusual ravines. This letter is a plea that the City Council take steps to save Appleton's ravines and few remaining patches of woodland and swamp within or near the city. That extraordinary little haven, Randall's woods, should never have been allowed to go before the bulldozer. True bits of wilderness area, like High Cliff, are so few that they should not be "improved," but allowed to remain the kind of jungle that wild creatures, children, and nature-loving adults enjoy. Our county government deserves a vote of thanks for preserving Plamann park. It should be spared "improvement" — too many people love it as it is. Incidentally, it should be barricaded against shrubbery-destroying cars and jeeps.

Under the Capitol Dome Looks Like Molinaro Will Head Assembly

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

Madison — Roly - poly George Molinaro of Kenosha is apparently assured of election to the speakership of the state assembly when the Democrats take charge there in January. It has been arranged. There won't be a contest. Robert Huber, the natural claimant for the office, already has conceded, although the 55 Democrats who have been elected to form a majority in the lower house have not yet had a caucus to talk things over.

It is a curious situation in a party which has spoken so earnestly about democratic methods and purposes and there are those freshman members of the prospective Democratic assembly majority who must have some private doubts.

In Milwaukee, particularly, which will send the largest single county delegation to the new legislature there already is some audible grumbling. "Who did the picking?" "Why didn't anybody consult us?"

Wyngaard

CURIOUS

Assemblyman Huber's quick capitulation, meanwhile, is also surprising to those who had assumed that he had normal political ambitions. To pass up a natural and earned chance at promotion now is virtually equivalent to saying that he is afraid — if not of higher responsibilities, then of defeat in an open fight.

This also is the first time in memory that anyone except the principals — the members of the lower house themselves — intervened in the selection of a legislative officer.

That anybody else has intervened now is probably difficult to demonstrate, but it is an interesting fact that the Molinaro announcement and Huber's concession came from a quiet strategy session in a remote Columbia county resort hotel called by Gov.-elect Nelson and attended also by other newly elected state officers and State Party Chairman Patrick Lucey.

It was perfectly plain that "the Madison crowd" wanted Molinaro and was determined to have him over Huber.

Had the late Julius P. Heil taken a hand in the speakership contest when Vernon Thomson became assembly presiding officer, or had Walter Kohler intervened when Mark Catlin of Appleton captured the prize in a later decade, they would have their faces slapped for their pains.

Capitol observers have to go back to the late 1830's and the Phil LaFollette regime to find a parallel. LaFollette used to concern himself about such things, and others basically outside the executive's prerogative. But such men as Speaker Paul Alfonsi, who felt such interference against what they fancied their own interests, remember even today such actions as symptoms of LaFollette's inevitable decline and fall.

RIVALRY

As practical politicians, the Democrats have pooh-poohed the idea of factionalism, the division between Milwaukee and Madison "rings".

Big Milwaukee county provides the votes, the mountainous majorities which give the state party its security and prosperity, but comparatively small Madison rules — and let no one doubt it.

There are good reasons for this tail wagging the dog situation, including the abilities and the resources of the respective politicians involved. Among resources, a key one is the Madison contingent's reliable control of publicity, through which partisans in other parts of the state can be influenced and directed.

But it is not conducive to internal harmony and health, as the new legislature will almost surely demonstrate.

If the Democrats in their control of the assembly are able to stand prosperity without quarrelling among themselves, it will be counted as one of the minor miracles of the times.

Traffic Mishaps Cost Half That Of New Cars

From The Atlanta Constitution

For every dollar Americans spent last year for new cars another 50 cents was paid for the cost of traffic accidents.

This startling bit of information was disclosed to the annual conference of the International Association of Chiefs of Police. The informant was Guy E. Mann, Hartford, Conn., insurance executive, whose business it is to be concerned about such things.

Traffic accidents in this country in 1957 cost $7,250,000,000 — more than half the cost of all new cars sold. If accident costs continue to rise at the present rate, the annual bill 10 years from now will be 15 billion dollars, "or more than enough to give every employed person another $200 of consumer buying power."

Fluorides Pay In Philadelphia

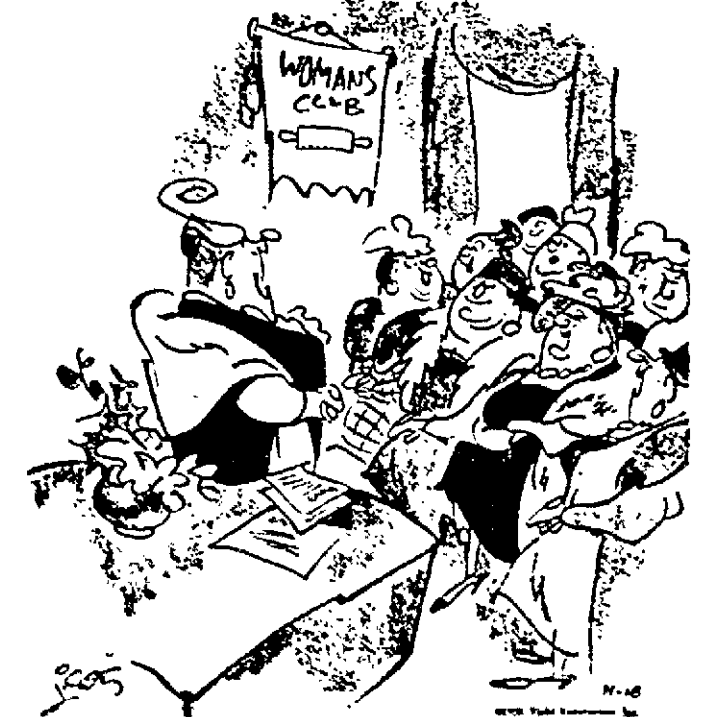

From The Philadelphia Inquirer

Philadelphia parents of teenage school children have reason to be happy. The dental bills of their student offspring should show a decrease of something like 50 per cent.

After four years of fluoridation of the city's water, tooth decay among 6-year-olds has decreased approximately 50 per cent and extractions by 43 per cent. It really appears that fluoridation, long a controversial process, really pays off.

New Zealand Art Import Ban Economy Move?

From The Baltimore Sun

New Zealand is reported to be suffering economic difficulties and in an effort to stabilize affairs, its government has taken various measures. One is among the oddest we have ever heard of.

It has forbidden in toto the importation of works of art. And not only the things that a private gallery might sell but even those which public museums might purchase. Indeed, it goes beyond that and even prohibits the bringing in of loan exhibitions.

Maybe this will contribute to a return to economic health, but we cannot help wondering how. Since only a small proportion of a population possesses the wealth to buy art objects and since only a small proportion of those able to buy do buy, the total sum invested in paintings, sculpture and such things by a population of just 2,300,000 is surely of a very small order. And how does the keeping out of loan exhibitions help?

When a country is told it must not even borrow something to show in its public galleries it must be in a very bad way. We have heard of course of the straw that broke the camel's back but never of a camel's hair brush-work that broke the bank.

In Waupaca, the sheriff's radio antenna, a 50-foot tower atop the city hall, was blown down. The sheriff's office broadcasting was interrupted but continued to receive calls.

Repair men were working on the tower this morning. In the meantime, the sheriff was using the Waupaca police radio, which has only a 4-mile radius, for broadcasting.

A street lighting circuit also was out in Appleton's Eleventh and Twelfth wards.

Tree Down in Neenah

A large tree was blown down on Wisconsin avenue in Neenah, damaging power lines of about 15 customers. Two extra Appleton crews were sent to assist the Neenah crews.

Only minor wind damage was reported in Calumet county. The Wisconsin Public Service company and the General Telephone company reported no serious disruption of service, with damage chiefly confined to service entry wires. Municipal street crews were cleaning up the debris of fallen branches.

In Appleton there was .68 inch of rain from 11 a. m. to 10 p. m. Monday. Waupaca reported .65 inch of rain in the same general period.

No major damage was reported in Appleton, although street department crews were called for seven downed trees and parts of trees that blocked the street. Most Appleton roadways were cluttered with twigs and small branches. A few signs and billboards were damaged.

Storms Forecast

Tornadoes and high winds caused damage in Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri and Iowa as the storm system approached. Scattered severe thunderstorms and possible tornadoes were forecast last night for an area from extreme southeastern Iowa to extreme southeastern Wisconsin.

Highway accidents caused six deaths: Three in Missouri, two in Colorado and one in South Dakota.

High winds caused two other deaths. A Texas oil field worker was killed when winds blew over an oil rig near Odessa yesterday. An Oklahoma woman died when a high wind struck her chicken house. Heart attacks caused two deaths in the Oklahoma snow after 1 1/2 inches of rain fell in an hour near Fremont, Mo.

Tornado winds battered three areas in Iowa late yesterday. The winds damaged buildings in the business district of Elkader and damaged more than 12 farms in the Grinnell and Ottumwa areas. There were no known fatalities and only four persons with minor injuries.

Hopes faded in Arizona last night for the safety of three Boy Scouts missing since Saturday in the snow-covered and bitter cold Santa Rita mountains near Tucson. More than 150 possemen trudged through deep snow drifts yesterday in search of Mike Early, 16; Michael Lanoue, 13, and David Greenberg, 12, all of Tucson.

In other parts of Arizona about 10 hunters were trapped but believed safe in cabins near Flagstaff. Three others were snowbound near Prescott. A dozen hunters and campers were blocked in mountain snow near Tucson.

Heavy rains fell ahead of the cold front. Small creeks in southeast Iowa flooded after rains of as much as five inches fell.

Flood Threat

Rains also posed threats of minor overflows in parts of eastern Kansas and Missouri. Nearly a score of deer hunters barely escaped with their lives after 1 1/2 inches of rain fell in an hour near Fremont, Mo.

Other tornadic winds struck rural areas in Kansas near Arkansas city, Ottawa and Leavenworth.

A windstorm described by witnesses as a tornado, damaged homes, churches and businesses at Bowlegs in central Oklahoma. In all, about 14 persons were injured through the severe weather in the state.

A small twister damaged most of the 60 to 70 homes in Moundsville, Mo., 80 miles south of Kansas City. South of there another twister leveled outbuildings and killed cattle north of Springfield and a small twister damaged farm buildings east of Smithville, Mo.

Warm in East

In contrast to the cold and stormy weather, warm and moist air covered areas east of the Mississippi valley. Some of the wintry weather appeared headed eastward and was expected to move through the Mississippi valley, the Ohio valley and the Great Lakes region.

Warm and humid weather was reported wide areas in the eastern half of the nation yesterday. Showers and drizzle hit many sections and during the night strong winds lashed north central regions.

Neat heat records for the date were set in many areas from the Carolinas into the Ohio and Missouri valleys. Included were 86 degrees at Augusta, Ga., and Columbia, S.C.; 78 at Dayton, Ohio; 84 at Memphis and 77 at Springfield, Mo.

Scattered showers and more humid weather were indicated in the southeast and warmer weather was the outlook in the northeast.

Sister Says Teamster Boss Gave 'Gifts'

Testifies Beck Offered Stocks In Brewery Firm

Tacoma, Wash. — The sister of former Teamster President Dave Beck testified with sobs yesterday that her brother was a benefactor who looked out for her security but rarely explained about finances.

"Sir, I don't remember when I first acquired those shares of stock," said Mrs. Rita Henne, 63, when questioned about 100 shares of Beck's Seattle Brewery company stock bought in her name.

"They were given to me by my brother to help me as security for the future because I work."

The widow, a year younger than her brother, wrung her hands and stopped occasionally to dry tears as she testified at the trial of Beck, accused of evading $240,000 in income taxes in 1950-53.

The government seeks to show that the portly former union official profited from stock transactions involving his relatives and associates.

Mrs. Henne was asked what she did with dividend checks.

"Some of them I cashed, some I turned back to my brother."

"I gave them to him to do what he saw fit. He has full power of attorney to sign my name on anything or to help me in any way."

The government is trying to establish Beck's income for the years 1950-53 by showing that his net worth increased by a certain amount. Under this method, specific sources of income are not required.

Officials Testifies

Earlier a Seattle Teamster official testified his endorsement was forged on at least four checks—one for $10,913—that had been co-endorsed by Beck.

D. W. Marshall, head of promotions for Teamsters' Joint Council 28, examined photostats of checks issued to him for dividends or sale of brewery stock and asked if they bore his endorsement.

"No sir," he said.

Marshall testified he held 4,287 shares of Beck's stock between 1940 and 1947 but had not paid for a single share. He said he actually owned only 25 shares given him as a Christmas bonus and the rest was bought for him by Beck.

He said in 1946 or 1947 Beck asked him to assign the stock to others.

"I signed some over to Mrs. Henne, some over to Dave Beck, Jr., and some in blank," he said.

Pravda said today the Soviet government "is unshakable in its decision" to change the occupation status of Berlin. Western approval is not needed for the Kremlin to carry out its decisions, the communist party newspaper added.

Moscow radio broadcast the article.

So far the Russians and their East German satellite leaders have talked without acting. But the talk startled the west into re-examining its policies when Khrushchev hinted at a possible new Berlin blockade.

Khrushchev indicated he might hand over to the East Germans control over allied access to their garrisons in West Berlin, across 110 miles of East Germany. This would force the allies either to deal with the East Germans or to begin among the most despised and ignored satellite routes and resort to an airlift.

Reports from Washington and London speak of possible restricted contacts with the East Germans if they take largest Soviet garrison in the over control of the allied supply line. After high-level meetings on the subject yesterday, official sources in Washington said a decision on the extent of contacts would not be reached until the need arose.

Limited contacts might not imply diplomatic recognition. But the talk alone has been enough to yank East German leaders out of the dusty shadows. Since the Russians set their regime nine years ago, the East Germans have been among the most despised and ignored satellite leaders in eastern Europe.

Part of this has been because of their notorious lack of popular support and the presence on their soil of the largest Soviet garrison in the world. But it also has been due to the allied non-recognition policy.

ANNOUNCING THE FIRST LUXURY CARS WITH A CONSCIENCE: NEW GAS-SAVING MONTEREYS

New economy-powered Mercury Montereys let you "ride free" 10 miles in every 100

It's about time someone made a luxury car with a V-8 engine that delivers top performance on regular (not premium) gasoline. And Mercury's done it with this beautiful Monterey. You save 10% every time you stop for gas. You get more mileage with regular gasoline than many cars with premium.

It's about time someone built a beautifully styled car that is truly comfortable. Mercury's done it.

For easier entrance, this Monterey has wider front doors than the costliest cars. The windshield pillar has been moved out of the way of your knees and elbows.

For extra knee room, the instrument panel has been moved away from your lap. There's 9 inches more stretch-out comfort.

For extra comfort for center-seat passengers, the tunnel-hump in the floor has been cut in half. Passengers in the middle no longer ride with their legs doubled up. And the lower hump makes room for thicker seat cushioning—not just thin padding.

In a dozen ways, the '59 Mercury has made pleasures out of what are still problems in other '59 cars: New windshield wipers have an overlapping pattern, clear even the center. New aluminized mufflers last twice as long. New anti-dive suspension checks "nose dip" on sudden stops. Self-adjusting brakes eliminate periodic adjustment. New Super-Enamel finish keeps its beauty—doesn't need waxing for years.

Best of all, these beautiful Montereys are attractively priced—well within the reach of 2 out of 3 new-car buyers. We invite you to see them at our showroom.

Cardinal O'Hara Known for Informality With Visitors

Philadelphia — He answered the doorbell's ring himself, this tall, thin clergyman with the genial fan-like crinkles at the corners of his eyes.

He took the wraps from his surprised visitors and squinted them into the library.

It was a Cardinal thought so unusual for a man of his station to do this, that these and other callers, similarly astonished, made news of it among those they knew.

The wonder of so many of his people eventually came to the attention of the gentle priest.

"But how can I ever meet the poor unless I answer the doorbell myself?" he said to an inquiring friend.

Both the action and the words were characteristic of the Most Rev. John F. O'Hara, C.S.C., archbishop of the Roman Catholic diocese of Philadelphia.

This gift of giving himself, a warmth going out to all, is Pope John XXIII, I count on but one of many in the make-up of the 70-year-old archbishop who with 22 others of God to make up for my own failings in the wider field of pastoral work that this as-

Linguist, scholar, administrator, writer, all are part of a work which he defines as the highest stewardship that can be held on earth.

News Made Him "Numb" said of his health, "I feel numb. I just can't get over it," Archbishop O'Hara told reporters after celebrating mass this morning.

He said he was advised of his appointment in a telephone call Sunday night from the Most Rev. Amleto Giovanni Cicognani, a postolic delegate to the United States who also was named a cardinal.

"The call to serve the holy father in the college of cardinals carries with it grave responsibilities. The courage demonstrated by his holiness in accepting much greater responsibilities helps me overcome my personal reluctance following the example of the prayers of our people and the protection of the Mother of God to make up for my own failings in the wider field of pastoral work that this as-

Elevation Unexpected The cardinal - designate, whose frail appearance gives no clue to his great energy.

Smiling, Archbishop O'Hara said that no one in his family ever had predicted he would some day become a cardinal. "They are sensible people," he said.

Archbishop O'Hara assumed his spiritual authority over the Philadelphia diocese of more than one million Catholics in 1952, succeeding the late Dennis Cardinal Dougherty.

Cardinal Dougherty built schools and churches on a large scale. Archbishop O'Hara zealously continued this work.

Under his leadership, 12 free Catholic high schools were completed, 33 new parishes founded, enrollment in parochial grade schools was increased from 41,000 in 1950 to more than 200,000.

Schools for Retarded Branching out, Archbishop O'Hara established two schools for mentally retarded children, something quite new. They became a national pattern.

His work has many other facets — the Christian Home and Family Committee to Foster Catholic Family Life; a social center for Spanish-speaking Catholics; the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine to further the religious training of children not in Catholic schools.

His roots are deep in education. His first fame came as prefect of religion at Notre Dame from 1918 to 1933 and later president of the college for five years.

A story is told of his remarkable memory. "Joe," the archbishop would say as he walked briskly across the campus, "I haven't seen you at communion in six weeks. Don't you think it's about time you went to confession?"

Learned Languages Joe, more than likely, would believe his roommate gave him away.

Archbishop O'Hara was born May 1, 1888, in Ann Arbor, Mich., son of a country lawyer and school teacher who eventually went into foreign service as a diplomat. Even before he came to manhood the future illustrious churchman has traveled widely in Europe and South America, getting to know the languages along the way.

He became fluent in Spanish and Portuguese. Years later this skill was to help him run a news service for Central and South America while he was at Notre Dame.

The archbishop was graduated from Notre Dame in 1911. He did graduate and seminary work at the Catholic University of America and Holy Cross college and was ordained Sept. 9, 1916.

Notre Dame President His first pastorate was in Philadelphia. Within a year he had been named prefect of religion at Notre Dame. He stayed at the university until 1939, serving as dean of the college of commerce, vice president of the university, and in time president.

He gave up his high place at Notre Dame to become his church's military delegate to the armed forces of the United States, or, in another description of the mission, auxiliary bishop of the army and navy diocese. The position placed him in charge of 500 Catholic chaplains.

He was consecrated a bishop in 1940.

In March, 1945, he was appointed bishop of Buffalo, an office he held until 1951.

When he was at Notre Dame he was especially concerned with getting church news to the people—in articles easy to read.

His news service for Central and South America was one outgrowth of this concern. The Notre Dame daily religious bulletin and annual survey was another.

When he came to Philadelphia he added a highly readable feature section and picture page to the archdiocese newspaper, the Catholic Standard and Times.

Newsman have found him ever sympathetic toward their problems and a champion of the right of all people everywhere to know the truth about the complex world they live in.

Cardinal Cushing Youngest Archbishop in World in '49

Boston — Archbishop Richard J. Cushing, who was named Monday by Pope John XXIII to be a cardinal, is in Boston public schools and the spiritual leader of more than one and a third million Catholics in the sprawling Boston archdiocese.

He was the youngest archbishop in the world when he was elevated in 1944 at the age of 49.

Archbishop Cushing took over the leadership of the archdiocese on the death of William Cardinal O'Connell.

Before that, for five years, he was auxiliary bishop of Boston, a post to which he succeeded when Bishop Francis J. Spellman went to New York to become archbishop and later cardinal.

Tall and robust, Archbishop

Cushing worked as a blacksmith during the summer vacations when he was a student in Boston public schools and Boston College High School.

Father Blacksmith At that trade, he worked beside his father, a full-time blacksmith for the Boston Elevated railway.

Archbishop Cushing was born in Boston Aug. 24, 1895. It was during his high school days that he decided to become a priest.

He went to Boston college and later to St. John's seminary, Boston. After his ordination he was assigned to parish work for four years and in 1922 was named an assistant in the diocesan office of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith.

Six years later, Cardinal O'Connell named him director of a post he held for 11 years.

Archbishop Cushing long has been an outspoken foe of communism and only Sunday told 1,500 Massachusetts state employees at a communion breakfast that communists are out to destroy the FBI.

He said communists were smearing the FBI and J. Edgar Hoover, its head, because they stand in the way of the Soviet conspiracy for conquest of the United States.

Really This Bad?

CD in Three Counties: No Progress to Date

BY JACK GLASNER
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Is civil defense actually in such poor functioning condition as this series has indicated?

Let's take two counties in the southeast reception area which are to take in evacuees from Milwaukee—Calumet and Winnebago — and a county which is to take in Green Bay evacuees—Waupaca—and see how they've planned.

Calumet is an agricultural county, Winnebago an urban one.

In Calumet county (which will get 49,000 people) the civil defense coordinator is County Clerk Roland E. Miller. He got a raise in pay and parttime help in his office when he was made coordinator, but there is no specific amount which he is paid for civil defense work.

No Plan Here

There is no county-wide civil defense plan, there is no plan for feeding and housing the 49,000 evacuees and Miller describes the county's attitude toward civil defense as indifferent. As in most counties, the Calumet civil defense work shows the most progress in auxiliary police — 115 have been trained. Miller has tried to push the civil defense program and his county board has backed him.

But, as our correspondent says, "Calumet county is secure — nothing disastrous has ever happened here and nothing can happen here."

In Winnebago county a retired man, George F. Oaks, is civil defense coordinator and receives no pay for work. A county-wide civil defense is in the process, including plans for a warning system in Oshkosh, welfare centers and a medical division which has been organized.

Plans in Progress

As for housing and feeding, 129,750 evacuees from Milwaukee, Oaks says plans are in progress, describes Neenah-Menasha as delinquent. He characterizes the county's overall attitude toward civil defense as indifferent. Specifically, he says municipalities have been dragging their feet, and auxiliary police in the rural areas have been most responsive.

This is the seventh in a series of eight articles on civil defense in the Fox River valley. Outagamie county in this series is used as an example of civil defense status. Most of the state's 71 counties are in identical condition, with the exception of Brown and the six counties in the Metropolitan Milwaukee area.

cesan council program. This allows civil defense officials to reach a great many people through existing organizations.

However, in Kaukauna a short time ago, the Outagamie Deanery Council of Catholic Women found it necessary to contact a man who is interested in civil defense but not a part of its formal organization to give them information. Such information should be available through the county civil defense organization.

Waste of Time

What happens in Outagamie county is that the county coordinator wastes his time giving talks before groups, then doesn't follow it up with a consistent program. Such 1-shot affairs never get any program going.

This leads to the core of the problem—in no county in the Fox River valley (except Brown county) is there a training program set up with regular classes and attendance at schools in the federal headquarters in Battle Creek, Mich. The only effort made to train anyone is in the auxiliary police sessions.

Civil defense needs auxiliary police, but this is but one part of a vast field.

In Milwaukee, where the city spends nearly $250,000 for civil defense, civil defense training ranges from the home to the field. Neighborhood sessions explain what each family in each district should do, rescue squads are trained by firemen, vocational school personnel and facilities are used—in short, there is a consistent and constant program of civil defense training for every section of the program and the population.

We need a training program and we have the facilities for a good one. There are schools, public and parochial, and there are mountains of training material available from the state civil defense office and federal headquarters in Michigan.

What is lacking is leadership to use these resources.

Public's Right to Know What Officials Do, Visitors Told

Madison — "In the United States the public has the right to know what its officials are doing," Prof. Ralph O. Nafziger, director of the school of journalism at the University of Wisconsin, told 26 foreign educators at the Wisconsin center.

Prof. Nafziger explained the freedom so that the public can be informed. It is a public right, he said, to criticize public officials, not publishers' or editors' right.

Five Appleton High school senior girls will be the speakers in the humorous declamatory recital to be held at 2 p.m. Thursday in the AHS auditorium. Speakers were chosen in try-outs conducted in October. Kenneth Sager, head of the social studies department, is coach.

Taking part are Cheryl Pearl, Barbara Dhein, Carol Mishke, Mary Metz and Dorothy Metko. They have selected their own readings with the exception of Miss Metz who wrote hers.

Miss Metz will present a selection called "The Sleepwalker," which deals with the trials of one who is prone to walk in her sleep.

"I Want to be an Actress" by Grace Dodge is the reading which Miss Pearl will give. It is the story of non-

Proxmire also forecast the new congress will pass his amendment to cut the present 27 1/2 per cent depletion allowance allowed oil producers.

The Wisconsin Democrat made the predictions in a filmed television interview.

Proxmire said there would be a bipartisan effort to change senate rules to make it easier to shut off filibusters. He predicted the anti-filibuster move would succeed because of the bigger Democratic majority in the senate next year.

The predicted change is expected to be offered on the first day of the 1959 session.

Teaching Is Mother of All Professions, Dean Contends

BY HAZEL McGRATH

Madison — Teaching is the mother of all professions and the foundation of competence in all fields; therefore, the best should teach, Dean Lindley J. Stiles of the school of education has pointed out.

"Teachers are the curators of all our yesterdays and the architects of our tomorrow. Always they accomplish their and priority to the profession of teaching. Then we must provide them with a college training program that is intellectually stimulating and that sets them on their way to becoming liberally-educated individuals to whom we can entrust the minds of our youth and the future of our civilization.

Own Power

"Our programs of teacher preparation must develop scholars who move under their own power and who creatively pursue scholarship rather than complacently fulfill only the minimum requirements for a certain grade level. We must help students develop an understanding of the processes of education as well as skill in teaching that goes beyond superficial technical training.

"The ideal teacher will be creative enough to devise ways of getting subject matter across according to the student's ability. The non-professional teacher, who is a mere technician, will tend to teach as though all students are identical.

"It is my opinion that to accomplish this goal of training teachers who are professional in approach and well-rounded in background we need more than the four years now available. It is encouraging that in the school of education this year we have 74 students enrolled in a fifth year of teacher training, some of them with straight "A" records in liberal arts colleges.

"We have given much thought here at Wisconsin to focusing attention on the quality of our students' knowledge rather than on the quantity of their credits. To this end we are working with the state department of public instruction on a plan to certify teachers by exam-

Boy, 14, Looks to Future as He Ponders Problem of Proposing

BY ANN LANDERS
 DEAR ANN: I'm a boy 13 years old going on 14. I'm not planning to get married right away but I believe in looking ahead. What I want to know is this: Should a man tell a lady he's going to buy her an engagement ring or should he just go out and buy it and surprise her? In the movies the girl is always so shocked and happy. What would happen in real life if maybe the girl didn't want to get engaged to that fellow? It seems like it would be embarrassing for her and he might get very upset. And then there's the problem of size. My father says a woman's feet are always bigger than a man thinks they are, if he's in love with her. This could be true of her hands, too, couldn't it? Please settle the matter in my mind because it is bothering me.—MICKEY.

Dear Mickey: By all means, let's get this matter settled at once. You may need the information as soon as 10 years from now. Whipping out an engagement ring as a surprise may look good on the screen, but I don't recommend it for people. A fellow who pulls this kind of a surprise could wind up being the surprised party himself. There's always an outside chance that a girl likes a fellow as a date but she wouldn't care to darn his socks or listen to him snore. For young men who enjoy surprises, I recommend a stuffed poodle or a box of chocolates.

DEAR ANN: Our daughter is 16. She's an only child and I admit her father has spoiled her a little. Louise was never a good student, but she always got by. Last year her grades began to get very poor and we were afraid she'd flunk everything. Her father promised her a convertible for her 16th birthday if she made passing grades in all subjects. She barely scraped by, but she did make it. We kept our word and bought her a new car. Now we're having more trouble than ever. Her adviser phoned yesterday to say Louise has had too many absences from school and her work is not acceptable. I covered for her by saying she'd been ill. I didn't want her to get into more trouble for skipping. When I asked Louise about her absences she said she'd cut a few classes, but all the kids do it some time or another. Now I wonder if the car was such a bright idea after all. What shall we do?—C. D. M.

 Make a pedestrian out of the girl at once. When you put four wheels under this poor student you invited trouble.
 Small wonder your daughter does so poorly. Why exert herself when she can get a convertible for simply "getting by." Her unfortunate lack of initiative is a direct result of the satin-pill treatment.

 Lying to the school about her absences demonstrates to her satisfaction that she can dance and not pay the fiddler. Unless you lower the boom and insist on her best effort she's going to wind up completely out of hand, and then you can expect serious trouble.
 DEAR ANN: Please do the white collar workers of America a big fat favor and say a word about office collections. Every time I turn around somebody has his hand out for a bride's gift, a baby gift, a going-away gift, or a get-well bouquet. Frankly, the only reason I say yes is because I won't want to look cheap to the rest of the bunch. This is a universal problem. Please give us a hand.—THE ROBBED.
 If you feel this is a "universal problem" get up a petition, take it to the office manager and outlaw collections. If you're a lone voice crying in the wilderness, simply say no when you're asked and quit cryin'.

The bidding (rubber bridge):
 East South West North
 1 D 1 H 1 S D'ble
 Pass - 2 C Pass 2 H
 Pass Pass Pass
 North-South had a part-score 40 points. And so the fate of the two-heart contract was of considerable importance.

West opened the diamond ten, dummy played low. East won with the king, and South followed suit with the deuce. Now, at the second trick, East was in trouble. The diamond situation was clear enough, since South was marked with the missing jack, but East knew that if he cashed the diamond ace and led a third round for his partner to ruff, South, who almost surely had a singleton spade, would seize the opportunity to throw off that card. From East's point of view it was extremely desirable to let West cash and spade ace before the diamond suit was continued. So, hoping that West would read the situation, East returned his top spade.
 West, however, jumped to the conclusion that East had a singleton spade and wanted to ruff. So West took his spade ace and continued the suit—and after that the defenders could fold their tents.
 In all fairness, it was difficult for West to sense exactly what East had in mind, but the bidding should have helped him. With a singleton spade, East probably would have found rescue of the spade double; and if South had had two spades he might well have accepted his partner's double. In any case it was safer for West to lead his second diamond, and had he done so, a third diamond lead by East would have beaten the contract.

Our Children Don't Spread Tale of Child's Wrongdoing

BY ANGELO PATRI
 When a child of whatever age makes a mistake and does the wrong thing the whole matter should be a secret between his parent, the one concerned, or his teacher, and no one else. His wrongdoing should not be told anyone unless the situation demands it and then it should be kept as close as possible.
 Children are dependent for daily strength and security on their parents, relatives and friends. They want and need their approval. When they lose what they lose all feeling of place and power and become afraid, lonely and forsaken. When they offend, the matter should be cleared between the two people concerned when at all possible.
 A teacher noticed that one of the girls in her class was worrying about something and finally took her aside and said, "What is wrong? What are you worrying about? If you can tell me maybe I can help you."
 After a few minutes hesitancy the child told her story. She had taken a ring from her mother's jewel box and lost it. What to do next she did not know.

 "Have you told your mother?"—"No. That's the worst of it. She'll tell everybody about it. They'll all turn against me."
 Children need to trust their parents, their teachers, and who have to do with them. There must be someone to whom they can tell anything whatsoever and know that their secret is safe with them and that they will help them. They must feel secure in their parents' affection for them, certain of their loyalty and devotion or they are at a loose end, ripe for all sorts of trouble.

Question on Goodbye Handshake

BY EMILY POST
 Dear Mrs. Post: When taking leave, does the hostess, or the guest, hold out her hand first to say good-bye? Do you think a guest could be offended if a hostess held out her hand first, or don't you think it matters?
 Answer: It is not important, although I can see how it might matter to someone. For example, a visitor who had very sensitive feelings might get the impression, if her hostess held out her hand when she got up to leave, that she was being hurried off. As a matter of fact, if a hostess wanted very much to end a meeting this would be the only method she could use short of telling someone to go. Therefore, it might, after all, be better to advise a hostess to wait when a formal visitor is taking leave so as not to run the risk of hurting her feelings. To a friend this couldn't—at least it shouldn't—apply.

Anniversary Party

Dear Mrs. Post: Where should my husband and I receive, and who should stand with us, at our silver wedding anniversary celebration? Only one of the attendants can be present. What parts should our children take? This is to be a reception.
 Answer: You and your husband stand together just inside of the door or the room in which you will receive. It is not expected, but it will be very suitable, to ask the attendant you speak of to receive with you. Your children make themselves agreeable by circulating among your guests and seeing that none of them appears to be neglected.

Small Fry Have Fun With Odds 'n Ends As Santa's Helpers

Christmas plans require organization in the household. The first thing to do is to figure out ways to keep the youngsters busy so that they aren't underfoot during this season of frayed nerves and dwindling cash reserves.

Put them to work making Christmas gifts or decorating gift wrappings or making Christmas ornaments. A bowl of soap suds, opaque paint, and old boxes and juice cans can keep a young crew of potential noise makers on the silent beam for a good spell.

Large cereal or soap boxes, for instance, may be pressed into service as Christmas card holders. When finished you'll have Santa Claus going down a cardboard chimney.

First there is the paper work. A crayed area of bricks is made on paper and then pasted over the cereal box that should be in a chimney shape. The top of the box should be removed of course.

Santa's Face
Santa's face may be drawn on another piece of paper and put on a piece of cardboard and pasted at the top of the "chimney."

Santa Claus Christmas seals are good for that. If Santa's head is placed properly it should look like it is just peeking out of the chimney.

The chimney may be edged with a wide border of suds-snow. And do the children love to get into that! Give them a handful of packaged soap or detergent and a little water.

Let them whip it with a hand or electric beater until it gets to a thick consistency. It is applied with a wooden spoon or spatula, or fingered on.

Fresh 'Show'
It will remain white and fresh for a good number of weeks, so the mail box may be made long before Junior or

A CHILD who listens to a discussion of himself and his problems is more than likely to enjoy the spotlight. For example, if it's his eating difficulties he hears about, they probably won't improve—and might get worse, to attract more attention. Best not to talk in front of him—about him!

A pencil holder may be made out of a frozen juice can. These are decorated with tempera-detergent paint, made by adding one teaspoon of soap or detergent to two or three teaspoons of paint.
This recipe is the answer to making the paint stick to shiny, waxed or metal surfaces. The little pencil holder may be painted in a green or sky blue background. Little fir trees may be daubed on with thick, pale green and white paint in the tempera detergent mixture. Use a stiff brush.

Trusts Preserve Estate, Bank Official Explains

An estate can be transmitted from generation to generation under a trust setup, Lawrence Schreiter, trust officer of the Appleton State Bank, told the Optimist club Monday noon.

Use of a trust without retained interest is a means of reducing estate taxes, the bank official noted.

He listed four principal reasons for setting up a trust:

1. Lack of confidence in the beneficiary's ability to manage property, or a desire to protect against such inadequacy.
2. To prevent a beneficiary from disposing of the property.
3. To continue a business in safe hands and assure income.
4. Reluctance to forego control over the funds, even after death.

Schreiter suggested naming a corporate trustee because it assures permanent management of the estate. An individual might die before a trust goes into effect, he said.

He advised consultation with an attorney, insurance counselor or trust specialist before setting up a trust.

Mom Finds It Difficult to Raise Teenage Chess Genius

New York —(P)— Ever have trouble coping with your teenager? How would you like it if he were a genius?

"It's not easy," says Mrs. Regina Fischer of Brooklyn. Her 15-year-old son, Bobby, is a genius at chess. He won the United States championship at 14 and became the youngest international Grand Master in history this summer.

His one dream is to snatch the world chess crown from the present champion, Russia's Mikhail Botvinnik.

One of Mrs. Fischer's definitely "not easy" moments came this summer when Bobby appeared to be stranded in Yugoslavia after his first international tournament.
"He had a round trip ticket, but nobody made any reservations for him and he couldn't get a plane. I knew he'd spent most of his money at the World Fair in Belgium and I was afraid the Yugoslav Chess federation wouldn't go on paying for him after the tournament had ended.

"I went to the Yugoslav embassy but it was the weekend and I couldn't find anybody. I tried to call Bobby, but they said he had left by train.

Travel Troubles
"I was really worried. I knew he was loaded down with books and I didn't see how he could manage. He doesn't speak the languages.

Norfolk Ballot On Integration Expected High

Norfolk, Va. —(P)— Norfolk voters decide today whether they want six closed white secondary schools returned to the city for integrated operation.

A vote of between 22,000 and 25,000 was forecast, with some experienced political observers predicting a 3-2 margin against petitioning Gov. J. Lindsay Almond, Jr., to return the schools. Registration lists show 40,758 whites and 8,540 Negroes eligible to vote.
The informational referendum is not binding on city council or on Almond. At least five of the seven council members have indicated they will act on the basis of a majority vote.

The three junior high and three senior high schools were closed Sept. 29 under Virginia's anti-integration laws when the city school board bowed to a federal court desegregation order and enrolled 17 Negroes.

Thursday Last Day to Send Overseas Mail

Thursday is the deadline for mailing cards and packages to members of the armed forces overseas. Postmaster Francis Summich reports.

The term "armed forces overseas" applies to servicemen, members of their families and civilian government employees who get their mail at an APO number, he said.

Domestic postage rates apply to armed forces mail.

Summich advised sturdy packing for gifts. Patrons who have questions on package sizes and weight limitation may check at the post office.

Articles that cannot be sent overseas include lighter fluid and matches. Cigarettes, other tobacco products and coffee are prohibited in parcels addressed to some military post offices.

Attlee Sees Necessity of World Rule

Human Race Lives in 'Tempered Anarchy,' Speaker Contends

Post-Crescent News Service

Milwaukee — Some form of world government is the "only way out" for the human race which is living in a "world of tempered anarchy," former British Prime Minister Clement Attlee told a Milwaukee audience Monday night.

Attlee said his experiences during 20 years as head of Britain's labor party and six years as chief minister of the British government convinced him that world government is not only necessary but a "practical possibility."

Describing himself as a political realist, Attlee expressed the belief that the cold war between the communist and free worlds does not necessarily have to end in a hot war. Arguing that "you have to get along with people you don't like," he used examples of how political opinions had changed in England during his lifetime as a basis for his belief that both communist peoples and their leaders will eventually "begin to learn something about civilization."

Fail to Influence
"If you refuse to have anything to do with someone, you fail to influence him," he argued in an apparent reference to U.S. policy of refusing to recognize red China. He compared the cold war with the Thirty Years war, which seemed insoluble while it was on but eventually was ended with the Treaty of Westphalia.

It is no longer just desirable to end war—it is an absolute necessity if the human race is to survive, Attlee declared. The only way we can accomplish this is through world law enforced by some kind of force.

The United Nations, which he helped to found at San Francisco in 1945, cannot do this because it was founded on the basis of independent nations, he said. The UN should have a police force in which men enlist as UN soldiers and not as representatives of individual countries.

What Good?
"Everything was very agreeable back there in 1945 at San Francisco," the speaker recalled. "There sat Sen. Vandenberg, there sat Molotov, there I sat. Vandenberg said OK, Molotov said OK, I said OK. But what good did it do?"

Attlee compared America's emergence from isolationism to Britain's several centuries earlier. "The time has gone when we or you can sit on the sidelines and watch other people fight," he asserted. He predicted that before very long many other countries besides the U.S., Britain and the U.S.S.R. would have atomic weapons; "We just can't afford to have these dangerous weapons in irresponsible hands." A United Nations with power to enforce its decrees is the only way to avoid this, he said.

Attlee, who spoke under the auspices of the Milwaukee Town Hall association, was introduced by Mayor Frank Ziedler.

Lawrence Theater Bill Offers Contrast Study

BY JAY JOSLYN

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

The program being presented by the Lawrence College theater at 8:15 each evening this week is a showcase of style and a fine example of what collegiate theater should be.

The double bill of 1-acters, has as much contrast as possible and each has its special value, although neither would necessarily meet the needs of a community theater in any respect dependent on commercial success.

The curtain-opener, Eugene Scribner's, J.F.A. Bayard's "A Peculiar Position," is an example of 19th century stylized comedy whose value, aside from its inherent entertainment, is historical.

Strong Meat
The meat of the program—and it is strong meat, hungry and still throbbing—is "Endgame," by the contemporary and controversial Samuel Beckett.

It is a mood piece with darkening atmosphere difficult to shake even outside the Memorial union theater.

The fact that this is the first non-professional production of the piece makes it an event, but the virtuosity of the 4-member cast elevates it to a must for any serious fan of the stage.

Strange Characters
Comments heard in the lobby after the show indicate the piece has scope and depth not easily discerned. Be that as it may, on the surface it deals with four persons waiting to die in a world gone dead. Two of the characters have lost all but their torsos and live in ash cans. Another has gone blind and is restricted to a wheelchair by other injuries. The last is mobile, but his injury has forced him into the physical attitude of his primordial ancestors.

Planted in exact center stage in a throne-like chair is Ham, the master of the house, played superbly by Karl Schmidt. His is the pivotal role. He directs the action, fights his pain, rationalizes his conscience, sustains the routine and seeks to add dignity and meaning to the senseless prolongation of the inevitable end.

It is an actor's dream role which must have been a nightmare to con. Schmidt held the audience as he wove the moody cloak of atmosphere in what amounts to a gigantic soliloquy. His immobility pointed up the eloquence of his hands and the coloring and shading of his voice.

Sides of Coin
Joseph Holsten as the apologetic servant-son accomplished the equally-difficult chore of sustaining complete control. The two were opposite sides of a coin, both finely minted to set off the artistry of the other.

The remaining characters were Ham's parents, played by Sarah Keller and Carter Johnson, who added cruel touches of pathos that could have been shattered into bathos in less controlled hands.

Their reminiscing of long lost joys in nearly querulous voices struck a middle ground between Schmidt's eloquence and Holsten's stolidity and they successfully overcame the difficulty of playing from such unusual settings as ash cans.

Provocative Work
Ever since Beckett burst onto the world's stage with his "Waiting for Godot" there has been a suspicion there is an underlying current to his work that affords it depth bordering on greatness.

Whether the expatriate Irishman working in France has produced two allegories of great if unintelligible meaning or two exercises of merely personal meaning, the works are exciting and provocative.

There never was any argument of the depth of Scribner's work. It is fun and then, now it is the performance rather than the play that is the thing.

The unsuspecting dupe snared in the present frivolity is played by Carroll Gonzon, whose sense of style and timing makes one nearly wish insanity set in polished elegance would again become the mode.

Unfettered Enthusiasm
Arthur Ullian in the busybody major domo role that has been part and parcel of this genre since Malvolio, also captured the unfettered enthusiasm demanded by these puffs.

The rest of the cast, Dennis O'Flynn, Celoris Hackbart, Mary Adams, Jon Pearl, Grochen Affeldt and William Mack, filled their typical niches typically.

The trigger for the "grand" recognition scene failed to be noted on the program, but the fire and shrewishness Rene Barbeau brought to her scenes should not go without attention.

Director F. Theodore Cloak, his designer, Joseph Hopfensperger, and Lighting Supervisor Michael Roth mounted the double bill with apt taste and helped get the Lawrence season off to what promises to be an exciting year.

Newsman Sees More Spending, Labor Aids

John Wyngaard Offers Analysis of State's Democratic Administration

Wisconsin residents can look for increased spending and more pro-labor legislation under the state's first off-year election Democratic administration in this century, members of the Lions club were told Monday noon.

Offering the forecast was Wyngaard John Wyngaard, Post-Crescent Madison correspondent and political columnist.

Although Nelson's campaign talks were ingenious in avoiding specific pledges on tax policies and although the governor-elect will try to hold state spending, Wyngaard said he thought it highly likely a state withholding tax would be passed into law.

Difficult to Deny
"I don't see how the new administration can do anything else, what with Democratic platform commitments. Nearly all departments want more money and it would be extremely difficult to deny them. The Republicans couldn't."

The sales tax issue never had much life in it, Wyngaard said. He doesn't think it will become much of an issue again for at least two sessions of the legislature.

Since the labor movement now is a working arm of the Wisconsin Democratic party, Wyngaard contended, pro-labor legislation will include an extension of Thomson's temporary unemployment benefits with a probable increase in benefits paid.

Minor Aspect
Although Nelson stumped on a platform including comprehensive reorganization of state government, the political correspondent thought the subject might be a minor aspect of the new administration.

"I can't get excited about all this reorganization talk," he asserted. "There'll be a good deal of clatter and excitement but it won't amount to much in the end... The state has about 20,000 employees, most of whom are wired into their posts by civil service. Nelson will have a chance to appoint only a few dozen top department heads and commissioners. I do think he will appoint good men."

Wyngaard's analysis of why the Nov. 4 election went the way it did in Wisconsin covered several areas:

1. The population has changed in the last several decades and with it has come a change in political orientation.

Fatigue Factor
2. The fatigue factor — the GOP was getting tired and showed signs of slowing down in vigor, imagination and will.

3. The Republicans have begun to lose a philosophical identification. The Democrats always have been unequivocally liberal while the GOP has been losing some of its more conservative stands.

4. The Democrats put up better candidates than they have in a long time — probably the result of improved prospects of winning.

5. The national trend toward the Democratic party.

"The state already is spending more money than it takes in each year. This will be a trying experience for Nelson. And, although the GOP now is a minority party, it has the responsibility and challenge to audit, examine and report on the new party in power."

"Through this effort, the GOP may rehabilitate itself for the 1960 elections," he said.

Chamber Membership Committee to Hold First Meeting Dec. 11

The chamber of commerce's membership committee will hold its first monthly meeting at noon, Dec. 11, at a place yet to be selected.

Committeemen, newly named, held an organizational meeting last week: Robert W. Weyenberg is chairman. Other members are Arliss M. French, Donald A. Haynes, Clifford C. Williams, George E. Johnson, Daniel P. Steinberg, Jr., Robert L. Lang, James R. Whitman, Jr., Richard C. Van Sistine, Patrick F. Coughlin, Rudy Cherkasky, John Conway, Walter Kupfer, Charles B. Buchanan, James E. Vosper and Richard Beelen.

Robert H. Schacht, Madison, director of the bureau of information and program services of the University of Wisconsin, will be principal speaker when the Madison school Parent-Teacher association meets at 8 p.m. Thursday. His topic will be "PTA, A Voice in the Community."

80 Signers Disapprove Granting License

Neenah — A petition with more than 80 signers protesting the granting of a beer bar license for 700 Main street was filed this morning with city officials.

The petition will be presented at Wednesday night's council meeting and city of-the building did not meet state requirements for a public meeting place. To put the building into proper condition to meet those requirements would have been too expensive, the church officials felt.

Stanley Bisel, who filed the petition with city officials this morning, told them he had received requests from other parts of the city for circulating the petition.

Council Could Restrict Beer Bar to Adult Customers

Neenah — Council members could by ordinance decree that beer may be served only to adults when a malt beverage license is issued, it was mentioned today during discussions on the petitions protesting a beer bar license for 700 Main street. This could tend to keep teenagers from the bar.

Menasha Police Chief Peter Clark reported this morning four Appleton boys admitted breaking two car windows Saturday night. The incident occurred in front of the Memorial building.

Block Road; Neenah Store Window Broken

Menasha — This morning's heavy wind storm caused extensive damage throughout the Twin Cities.

In Menasha the water and light department reported a falling tree knocked down wires at 362 Elm street causing a power shortage for 90 minutes.

The heavy gusts blew over a billboard at the Cities Service station on Main street, two ornamental lights in front of the fire station and a safety island light at the Brin corner. The top of a sand box at the corner of Mill and Main streets was blown into a car.

Store Window Breaks
In Neenah a large tree in front of the home of Mrs. Julia Williamson, 315 E. Wisconsin avenue, and the plate glass window at the Krueger Hardware store, 107 W. Wisconsin avenue, were damaged.

The large tree broke off about four feet up from the ground about 3 a.m. today, falling across E. Wisconsin avenue and pulling down utility and telephone wires as it fell. Street crews blocked off the street while workmen sawed the huge branches up to clear the street.

Cable Snaps
A cable holding part of the sign extending over the sidewalk at the Krueger Hardware company snapped about 7 a.m. today and the cable swung back against the large plate glass window, breaking it.

The Wisconsin Telephone company reported several telephone wires were down throughout the Twin Cities. Linemen worked until 11:30 p.m. Monday and this morning putting up the wires.

Fallen branches, bent television antennas, tipped over garbage cans, houses and garages with a few less shingles and homes minus storm windows and doors were other evidences of damage from the wind that had gusts of over 60 miles an hour.

Designed to Provide an Expansive view of Lake Winnebago, the Russell Williams home at 1416 Menominee drive, Oshkosh, was elevated from a very flat lot. The glass walled side of the home which faces the lake is shown in the upper picture. Room dividers, such as the cupboard and book shelf combination in the lower picture separates living area, yet retains a feeling of spaciousness throughout the house.

'Trend Setting' Elevated Home Provides Sweeping Lake View

Oshkosh — A sweeping view of the east shore of Lake Winnebago from a very flat lot on the opposite shore was the building problem laid on the drawing board of Oshkosh architects, Theodore H. Irion and Leonard H. Reinke by the Russell Williams.

Perhaps the solution was suggested by the oil painting of a mountain chalet which hangs over the mantel of the stone fireplace in the Williams' new home, at what is now 1416 Menominee drive.

But architecturally, Ted Irion explains the design: "We decided to elevate the house out of the flat ground so that you could sit in your arm chair and see across the lake and people in passing cars couldn't see in."

Obviously it is a good idea, as the house plan appears in the November "House and Home," one of 24 selected by the national magazine as "trend-setters."

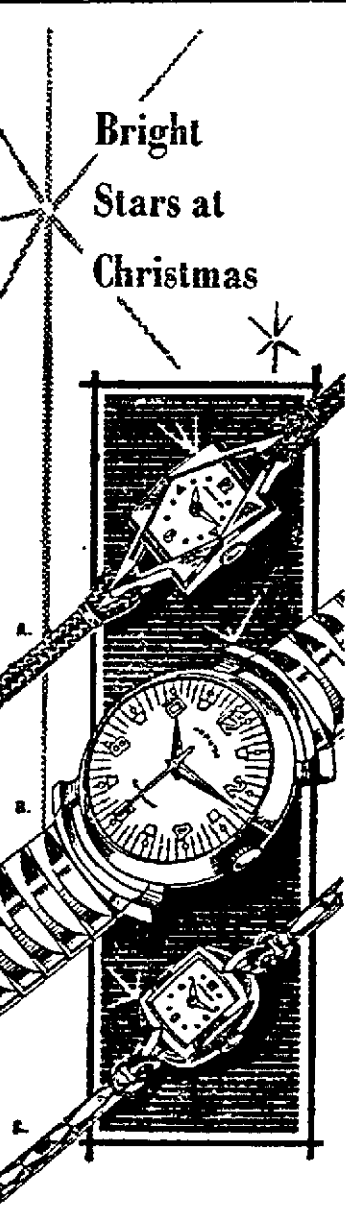

Raising the foundation not only provides an extraordinary view of the lake, but also provides a basement recreation room with a lake view almost as spectacular.

Single Entrance

The single entrance to the house is near the driveway and garage, and opens into a vestibule at grade level, halfway between the two floors.

Downstairs are the recreation room, which has a barbeque grill in one corner, a laundry, boiler room, bathroom, study and workshop.

On the upper level, the kitchen is at the head of the stairs, behind louvered doors. To the left is the living room and dining area which provides the lake view. From the dining area it is but a step into the kitchen. A planter wall along the stairs,

Tame Deer of Ft. Frederick Miss Departed British Navy

Trincomalee, Ceylon —(P)—Of all creatures who mourn the departed British fleet in this former royal navy bastion the saddest by far are the tame deer of Ft. Frederick.

Ft. Frederick is a 10-acre stronghold within the former naval base. Over the past hundred years it had come to be inhabited by a herd of deer that prospered under the affections of British seamen.

The fort never had enough grass for grazing, but the sailors brought fodder from outside and daily filled water troughs. By the time the British quit the naval base under pressure from the Ceylon government last year, the herd had grown to 150.

Today there are only about 70 deer left and the survivors are emaciated. Wildlife officials say that unless preservation steps are taken the herd will soon vanish.

Public attention was drawn to the plight of the deer in industries. The drop was attributed to October after rising for seven straight months, the officials say that unless preservation steps are taken the herd will soon vanish.

Too-Dry Heat Eliminated With the Aprilaire Portable Humidifier

Menasha—Area people can now eliminate the unhealthy, uncomfortable and uneconomical effects of too-dry heating with the Aprilaire portable humidifier, now on display at Menasha Sheet Metal Co., 314 Racine street.

"We know the humidifier can reduce colds and respiratory ailments caused by parched air," owner William (Bill) Hartzheim said. The Aprilaire will add as much as 12 gallons of water per day — enough moisture to properly humidify an entire home.

The unit has push-button control and can be used as a fan, cooler or heater. The Aprilaire overcomes one of the more serious disadvantages of ordinary humidifiers—the lack of sufficient capacity to produce the proper relative humidity.

Dry, artificially heated air draws moisture from any source, including draperies, furniture, wood trim. And only sufficient humidity in the heated air will prevent this moisture loss, and frequently resulting damage.

Aprilaire humidifiers are designed to evaporate more than one gallon of water per hour — more than enough capacity for the average six room house.

Humidity is Damaging Both too-high and too-low relative humidity are costly, and damaging. So, control is of vital importance. Hartzheim said, in providing and maintaining the exact relative humidity required. A sensitive humidistat at all times and an electric solenoid valve control the Aprilaire — maintaining the level of humidity set on the humidistat at all times—but only when humidity is called for and needed.

Aprilaire humidifiers introduce moisture by the water evaporation method. This evaporation occurs on inexpensive, easily replaced evaporating elements. A minimum of maintenance is required for the Aprilaire — involving only the replacing of the evaporating element once a year, if necessary because of extreme water hardness.

Operation is simple and fool-proof. Trouble-free service is evidenced by a one year's guarantee on all parts.

How It Operates

The humidistat, or humidity controller, is located in the living area — near the thermostat. If the relative humidity is lower than the setting on the humidistat, the Aprilaire goes into operation. Water is gravity-fed into the evaporating element. Warm furnace air is drawn through the element and returned to the furnace plenum with a high moisture content, in vapor form. The furnace distributes the humidified air throughout the house.

Shown above is the Aprilaire portable humidifier on display now at Menasha Sheet Metal, 314 Racine street, Menasha. The humidifier protects the home and family from the damaging effects of too-dry artificial heat.

When the humidistat is satisfied, the Aprilaire shuts off. An important plus feature is that the evaporating element acts as an air filter-removing 70% of the bacteria drawn through it.

Installation costs will vary according to the distance to the floor drain, electrical outlets and water supply—but the difference is small.

For further information on this amazing product, Fox Citizens are invited to call Hartzheim at Menasha Sheet Metal. Free estimates are cheerfully given. The phone number is PA 2-3653.

'Tom Dooley' Is Top Recording in Fox Cities

Kingston Trio's Platter Replaces
3-Time Winner Now 1st in Nation

BY DICK DISC

The ballad of "Tom Dooley" is the No. 1 record this week in the Fox Cities. It replaces the 3-time top tune, "It's Only Make Believe."

The Kingston Trio, recorders of "Tom Dooley," have one of the most popular albums currently in this area.

There are two new tunes on the top 10 chart this week. Both were previously noted as new records. They are "Problems" by the Everly brothers and the uptempo number by Jimmie Rodgers called "Bimbomby."

Here's the top 10:

1. "Tom Dooley" by the Kingston Trio.
2. "It's Only Make Believe" by Conway Twitty.
3. "Lonesome Town" by Ricky Nelson.
4. "To Know Him Is to Love Him" by the Teddy Bears.
5. "Beep Beep" by the Playmates.
6. "Problems" by the Everly Brothers.
7. "Topsy, Part II" by Cozy Cole.
8. "It's All in the Game" by Tommy Edwards.
9. "I Got Stung" by Elvis Presley.
10. "Bimbomby" by Jimmie Rodgers.

National Favorites
The top tune across the land this week is "It's Only Make Believe" with "Topsy, Part II" now in second place.

Here are some of the new records:

"Topsy, Part II" by Cozy Cole, another good tune featuring drummer Cole. On this one we hear more of the music than the drumming.

"Smoke Gets in Your Eyes" by the Platters. Inasmuch as so many old tunes have been revived lately, we pick this one as the newest old one to be a hit. Strong singing by lead Tony Williams makes this a good ballad. The Platters have been out of the hit spotlight for quite a while and this could be a good entry.

"I Heard the Bells on Christmas Day" by Harry Belafonte. A top number for Belafonte fans. Just in time for the Christmas season, this number is ably done.

Accomplished Actor

Power's Life as Adventurous as Many Roles He Created on Screen

BY BOB THOMAS

AP Motion Picture Writer

Hollywood — P— Ty r o n e Power created dozens of memorable screen roles, but none was more romantic and adventurous than his own life.

How many of them come to mind . . . the eager songwriter of "Alexander's Ragtime Band" . . . the swash-buckler of "Mark of Zorro" . . . the bullfighter in "Blood and Sand" . . . "Jesse James" . . . the soul-seeker of "The Razor's Edge" . . . the conquistador of "Captain from Castile" . . .

He was Johnny Apollo, a yank in the R.A.F., Prince of Foxes, and American guerrilla in the Philippines, diplomat, courier, Mississippi gambler, King of the Khyber Rifles and Eddy Duchin. Each time he was believable. He never won an Academy award, but to a whole generation he was the perfect picture of an adventurous hero.

His own life bore that out. This was no pose. He had scant regard for publicity, did little more than tolerate it. He merely led the kind of life he liked. His was a life that took him all over the world in search of new experiences and challenges.

Had Wanderlust

He seemed destined for a restless life. His father was a stage star in the era when an actor's life meant constant travel. As a young actor, Tyrone played at the Chicago World's Fair and toured with Katharine Cornell's troupe.

Only in the first, formative stage of his Hollywood career did he stay put. That was when Darryl Zanuck was putting him in, one big picture after another, spreading his fame to all parts of the world.

The war gave him an escape. His service overseas as a marine pilot rekindled the wanderlust.

When he returned to films, he seemed uneasy to be tied down in Hollywood. As soon as he finished a picture he would hop in a company plane with two or three aides and pilot them on a goodwill tour of South America, Africa or some other far-off land.

He explained: "In my travels, I've seen too many old people sitting around on the decks of boats trying to enjoy trips they waited too long to take."

Leaves Hollywood

After 16 years at 20th Century-Fox he was chafing under his contract. He took a suspension for refusing "Lydia Bailey." He said he had done five costume pictures in a row and wanted a film in which "people talk normally, not in stilted dialogue."

He added: "There's no thrill left in the movie business. There's no more glory, and you can't add to your bank account; it all goes to taxes. So I figure it's better to do something I like to do."

Tyrone turned his back on Hollywood to tour the United States for a year in a dramatic reading of "John Brown's Body." This was the kind of a life his father had led, and he was delighted.

Besides enjoying the travels, he realized that younger stars were pressing his position. He said realistically: "When you're through in this business, you've got to have something else."

Tyrone never had to worry about being through. He was a top star to the end. And it was perhaps fitting that the high school star, and Paul came while he was film-Moylan and Larry Gauger, a lavish spectacle in a distant land.

In the area for their baseball playing ability.

Warren Giles Fears Baseball 'Dilution'

Maintain 'Small Structure,' NL President Urges in Milwaukee

Milwaukee — Warren Giles let New York's ambitious planners in on his version of the facts of baseball life Monday night.

Forming a third major league, said the National league president, "is easier to accomplish through a press release than actually getting the cities, parks and players."

500 Hear Talk

At the same time, Giles apparently is in opposition to Commissioner Ford Frick's hopes for an expansion of major league baseball.

Baseball, said Giles, must "keep a small structure, rather than enlarging it and diluting it."

Vike Frosh Harriers 2nd In MC Meet

The Lawrence college team has placed second in the annual Midwest conference "telegraphic" cross country meet for freshmen.

Ripon took first with 43 points, while the Vikes had 51. Next came Monmouth, 78; Cornell, 86; Carleton, 96; and Beloit, 116. Each of the six competing teams ran two miles on its home track.

The highest Vike placer was Bill Stout, whose 10:18 was good for fourth place.

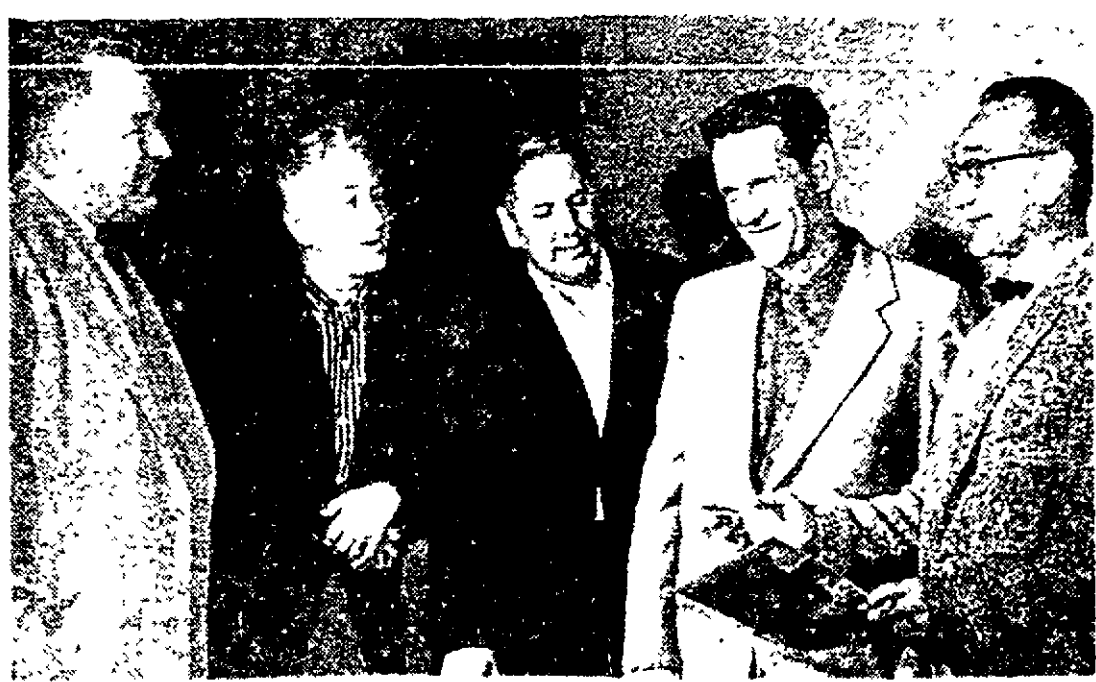

Other Lawrence finishers were: Jim Jordan, 8; Gordon Becker, 13; Warren Ellisworth, 14; Harold Glass, 22; Jeff Knox, 34; and Don Parsons, 37.

Schoendienst Isn't Counted Out by Haney

Manager, However, Sees Repeat Flag Even Without 'Red'

Milwaukee — Manager Fred Haney declared Monday night his Milwaukee Braves can win their third straight National league pennant next summer without second baseman "Red" Schoendienst.

He hastened to add, however, that he wasn't counting the redhead out. Schoendienst is in a St. Louis hospital awaiting results of tests to determine whether he has tuberculosis.

"We can win without Schoendienst," Haney said. "We'll come up with somebody who can handle second."

May Be Okay

"Of course," he added, "we may be worrying about 'Red' without cause. He may be all right. I hope so. I'd like to have him from the beginning of the season."

Haney said he had three second basemen in mind—Mel Roach, who broke his leg last season; Felix Mantilla, and Casey Wise.

"We've got a lot of ifs," he said. "These three guys can't hit with the redhead, but their fielding is about on a par."

Haney noted that Schoendienst, a switch hitter, complained last year of pains in his side when he batted right-handed.

Post Mortems

If this condition persists, Haney said, he would consider platooning Schoendienst and Roach against right-handers and left-handers, respectively.

"That's why I say we're going to be an 'if' ball club," Haney continued. "There is no question about it."

UW Remains Fifth in Poll

LSU Still First; Iowa Drops To 6th Place

By The Associated Press

Louisiana State, the nation's only major college football team still unbeaten and untied, has opened up a wide lead in the race for the national championship in The Associated Press poll of sports writers and sportscasters.

With the season drawing to a close, a vote of 183 writers and TV-radio men left LSU the unquestioned leader. Despite its close call against Mississippi State, which LSU barely topped 7-6, the No. 1 team polled 114 first place ballots.

Eye 10-0 Record

Unless Tulane is able to upset Louisiana State in Saturday's finale, the Tigers will wind up with a 10-0 record.

Auburn moved up to second place with strong support after its 21-6 victory over Georgia. Iowa, last week's runnerup, dropped to sixth after losing to Ohio State, 38-28.

Army remained in third position after its 26-0 decision over Villanova. The Cadets.

Araujo, 27, was trying to get back into his former ring standing after 30 months in the Army. Munroe had beaten him in a decision last month.

Matuszak Signed by Packers; Howton May Miss 49er Tilt

Ferguson Put On Injured Reserve List

Green Bay — Signing of linebacker Marv Matuszak who was once worth part of his weight in a quarterback and possible loss of Billy Howton for Sunday's game today forced Packer Coach Ray McLean to consider some interesting changes.

Matuszak was cut by the San Francisco 49ers last Friday — after his team lost, 56-7, to Los Angeles. The Packers claimed waiver rights to the one time all-pro and he was awarded to Green Bay on the basis of the club's standing.

Reports Tonight

Matuszak, a 6-2, 235-pound defensive ace, left San Francisco this morning and was scheduled to report here tonight. A spot was created for the newcomer on the roster by placing fullback Howie Ferguson on the injured reserve list, which kayoes him for this season. "Fergie" suffered a shoulder separation in the Bear game two weeks ago and stood only an outside chance of being ready for the last two games.

Howton's injury was a surprise and didn't crop up until Monday. It's a displaced vertebrae — a chip on the bone, and might keep him out of the San Francisco game in Milwaukee County stadium.

Howton hasn't missed a Packer game since '53 when cracked ribs sustained in the last exhibition kept him out of the first four league games. Billy was a sophomore in '53. Howton's availability won't be known until later in the week.

Matuszak, 26, is interested in playing more than "just this year," McLean said, adding: "we're also interested in his future."

Matuszak made it clear, in dispatches from San Francisco.

Mort Cooper, Former Card Mound Ace, Dies

Little Rock, Ark. — Mort Cooper, fireballing Cardinals' right-hander who with his brother Walker formed one of baseball's top batteries in the 1940s, died here Monday at the age of 45.

Death was due to cirrhosis of the liver. M. Cooper was suffering from diabetes and staphylococcal infection. He had been a patient at St. Vincent infirmary for about three weeks.

Funeral home attendants said they understood the former St. Louis ace recently bought a home in Berryville, Ark., but had not yet moved his household goods from Houston, Texas, where he had lived for five years.

Walker Joins Cards

Mort, a 6-2, 200-pounder, won 128 games and lost 75 in a 12-year major league career, first reporting to the Cards 21 years ago.

In 1937, Cooper made the spring roster of the Cards. He didn't stick, however, until 1939 when he had a 12-6 record.

It was then that Mort began badgering the Card front office to keep an eye on another Cooper named Walker.

Walker came to the Cards in 1940 and took over as the regular catcher in 1942.

Pitching to his brother, the big righthander led the Cardinals to three straight pennants in 1942, '43 and '44. In those three years Mort won 65 games and lost only 22.

In '42 Mort posted a 22-7 season and was named the most valuable player in the

Packer Crowd Sunday Was Liveliest in Years

Poor Blocking Limits Bays to 81 Yards Rushing

BY ART DALEY

Green Bay — Tuesday Quarterback No. 8: First things first — like the enthusiasm of the 28,051 Packer backers in City stadium Sunday. That was the liveliest, the noisiest gang the Packers have had behind 'em in years. They seemed to take an "active" part in the game, cheering every advance made by the Bays, groaning on each error (four interceptions, one fumble) and yelling encouragement when things went black.

On another subject: . . . The Packers settled for 81 yards rushing Sunday, and that's a great piece of work for the Ram tacklers. The Rams were held to 132 yards rushing and ditto for the Packer tacklers.

Hoorah for both sides, but we're chiefly concerned with the Packers' rushing. So what happened with the Packers' blocking in front of a ball-carrier?

Paul Hornung, who started to look like what everybody was hoping for, bolted for 63 yards in 11 carries, making him the top rusher for the afternoon. But there was nothing behind him. Don McIlhenny didn't hardly get a chance to budge, let alone running room. He finished with 11 yards in eight carries. The only other rushers were the three QBs who each lugged one — "Babe" Parilli for four yards, Bart Starr three, and Joe Francis zero.

Gain 62 Yards

The Packers gained 62 yards rushing in the first half, only 19 in the second when the Bays emphasized passing.

The Packers' first nine plays in the second half were Parilli passes. Four were completed, three incompleting, and blast it, two were intercepted.

Don't go away: Parilli then

The 5-foot-9, 175-pound McKeon began his pro career with Hutchinson, Kans., in 1952. In 1953 and 1954 he played with Burlington, N. C., of the Class B Carolina league. During 1953, he caught every game but one in the 140-tit schedule.

Series Is 2nd Best of City Men's Season

Dr. Charles Hauch smashed a 681 threesome Monday night in the Knights of Columbus American league at Hahn's, the second best threesome of the Appleton men's kegling season.

He rolled a 233 and a 225 for Schreifers Tap. "Nabs" De Young rattled a 244 for Fox Shell Oil and wound up with a 631. The only other plus-600 score was by Jim Agen (613).

The season's best threesome was a 684 by Dr. Larry Keller in the same circuit on Oct. 27. Alex's (22-8) holds a 3-game league lead. Other honor scores:

Louis Dietz 570, John Marx 553, Dr. Larry Keller 571, Marvin Schme 569, Cy Lippert 591, Ray Weber 232, 558, "Frazz" Kamps 225, Clem Williamson 578, Mike King 569.

Over Zealousness, Not Dirty Football, Marked Bearcat Tilt, Says Druze

Warriors Come Out Of Game Without Serious Injuries

Milwaukee — (U) — Marquette Coach Johnny Druze said Monday it was "over-zealousness," not dirty football that marked the Warriors' game with Cincinnati last Saturday.

Druze said the play was typical of that during the Marquette-Cincinnati series. Both coaches went on the field to talk to the teams as the game saw 155 yards in penalties assessed, 100 of them against Cincinnati. More than a dozen players were helped or limped off the field, and three players were ejected.

Tossed Out

Marquette's Frank Mestnik and Tom Pacl and Gene Johnson of Cincinnati were tossed out of the game after personal foul calls.

"Both teams were really hanging in there with hard blocking and tackling. Sometimes things got to a boiling point and there were some flareups," the Marquette coach said.

The coach added, "We've always tried to teach our boys never to resort to anything illegal. When they get to that point, they're hurting their own team by removing themselves from the game."

Despite the spirited going, the Warriors came out of the 15-0 defeat without any serious injuries.

Failure to score when they had position hurt the Warriors who twice had first downs inside the 10-yard line, but the reserve backfield couldn't punch over.

Cornell at QB

The backfield consisted of John Cornell at quarterback, Dick Timmer and Jerry Cooke at halfback and John Lane at full after Mestnik was ousted.

"I don't want to take any time away from them," the coach said. "They all did a fine job, but our offense was hurting. With Si Woods in there we'd have had better blocking and more size and speed and with Pete Hall at quarterback, better passing."

Woods, a halfback, and Hall were out with injuries but are expected to play next Saturday against Holy Cross. Mestnik will also have another start.

Roving Linebacker

UW's Stalcup Goes From Fat Boy To College Star in Six Years

Madison — (U) — Six years ago, Jerry Stalcup was a fat little kid, packing 200 pounds on a 5-foot-2 frame. Now he's only 13 pounds heavier, but 10 inches taller and a real tough guard on the Wisconsin football team.

"I consider him one of our best linemen," said Badger Coach Milt Bruhn Monday.

For fans who follow the defense of football, Stalcup's name is familiar. When good blocks and smashing tackles are made, his name is usually called. He's considered a candidate for all-conference selection.

Rockford Native

A native of Rockford, Ill., Stalcup is a junior and will celebrate his twentieth birthday Wednesday. He was a good guard and linebacker in his first varsity year, but this season he's been great.

Desire is one of his strong points. Last Saturday against Illinois he was considered a doubtful starter because of a bruised and painful shoulder. But he lined up for the kickoff and within minute he'd intercepted a pass to block an Illinois drive.

It was his first interception, but other accomplishments include recovery of two opposition fumbles, hitting Northwestern's Ron Burton so hard he fumbled and a rating high up on the list of credited tackles.

Better Knowledge

"He's got better knowledge of the game this season," Bruhn said. "He reads the offense better and knows what the opposition has done before in typical opposition. He's particularly good at handling the rover assignment."

The rover assignment calls for a middle linebacker who can shift from side to side in back of his own line to gain the best position against the next opponent play.

"I sure like that rover deal," Stalcup said. "I usually manage to catch somebody behind the line of scrimmage at least a couple of times a game."

Stalcup explained his work

this season saying, "I have a lot more confidence now and know my job better. Last year was the first time I ever played line backer."

He feels he had his best games against Northwestern and Ohio State and would like to add Minnesota to the list, when the Gophers and Badgers meet here Saturday in the season finale. The Badgers must win to retain second place in the Big Ten.

Stalcup says he's never seen a pro league football game from the stands, but he wouldn't mind taking a turn at play-for-pay ball.

McLean is loath to put the finger on anybody for Green Bay's sorry season, but he admits, "There is no consistency at quarterback."

"I guess I have to find one that's hot for the day," he said. "All we can do is just go along and hope for the best."

"Naturally," he added, "there's nothing we can do about the situation now. The future is another thing. It's just got to get better. I'll tell you this, they're trying out there all the time. It's a fact, though, that 17 points in three games isn't enough to win one game in this league."

McLean, however, denied a statement attributed to an unnamed player that the team lacked confidence in Starr and Parrilli, Francis and Co. and that that was why the Packers were floundering.

"I can't imagine anyone saying a thing like that," he said. "Any player could have a statement like that pop right back in his face. There's no reason in this world to criticize the quarterbacks when they've been trying."

"When I say they haven't been consistent, I'm just stating a fact. I'm not criticizing them. They do the best they can with what they've got."

"If I had the whole World Series to play over again," the little skipper asserted, "I'd play it exactly the same way. I haven't second-guessed myself once since the Series."

"It was a matter of hitting. We just didn't get it. Warren Spahn and Lew Burdette pitched great ball for us. In fact, Spahn in that sixth game pitched one of the greatest games of his career."

co, that he held no bitterness toward the Forty Niners. However, he indicated he was happy to join a Western division club and get two cracks at the gold coasters.

Matuszak has the rare distinction of being an all-pro one year and then getting the axe the next. He came up to Pittsburgh after a great career at Tulsa in '53 and won all-pro ranking as a middle-linebacker. He was traded to San Francisco by Steeler Coach "Buddy" Parker for quarterback Earl Morrall and two first draft choices.

McLean said today that Matuszak "is not keeping the other linebackers out of there by any means," indicating that the newcomer must show some stuff before the show Sunday.

Addition of Matuszak gives the Packers five linebackers, the others being Bill Forester, Tom Bettis, Dan Currie and Ray Nitschke.

"This gives us a chance to maybe try Nitschke and Currie at defensive ends. And Matuszak is also a possibility as a defensive end, too."

What if Howton doesn't play?

McLean indicated that he can select from three possibilities — Al Romine, Al Carmichael or Joe Johnson. Romine played considerable offense during the non-league season.

The Packers have one other candidate for the sidelines—guard Hank Bullough, who presently is nursing an injured knee in the hospital.

National league beating out teammate Enos Slaughter. He hurled a complete game in every contest that he won and led the major leagues in shut-outs with 10.

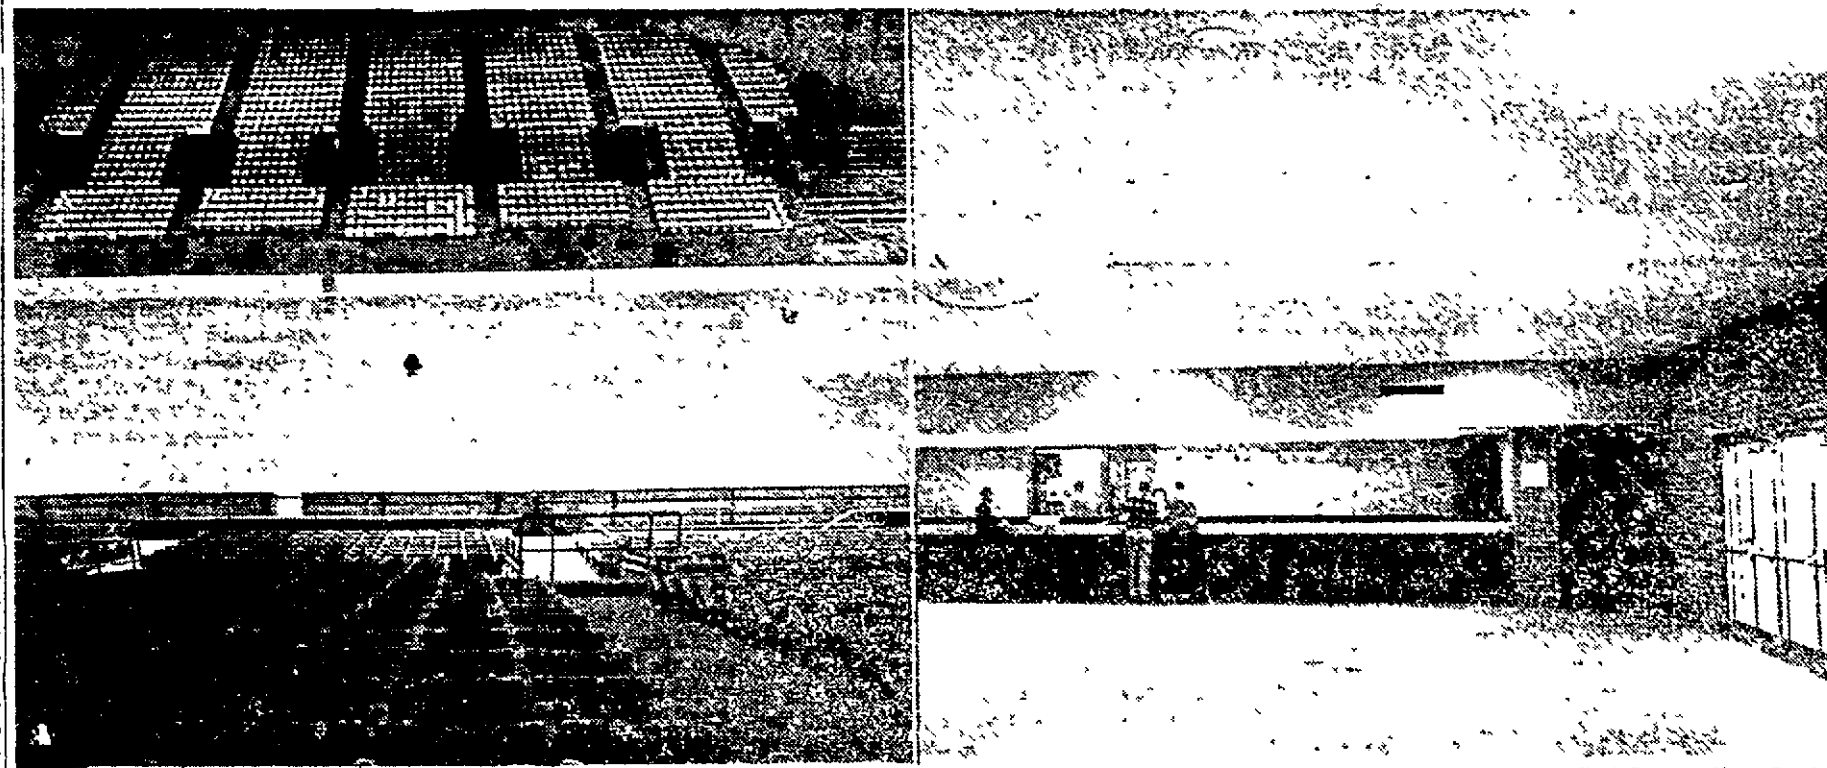

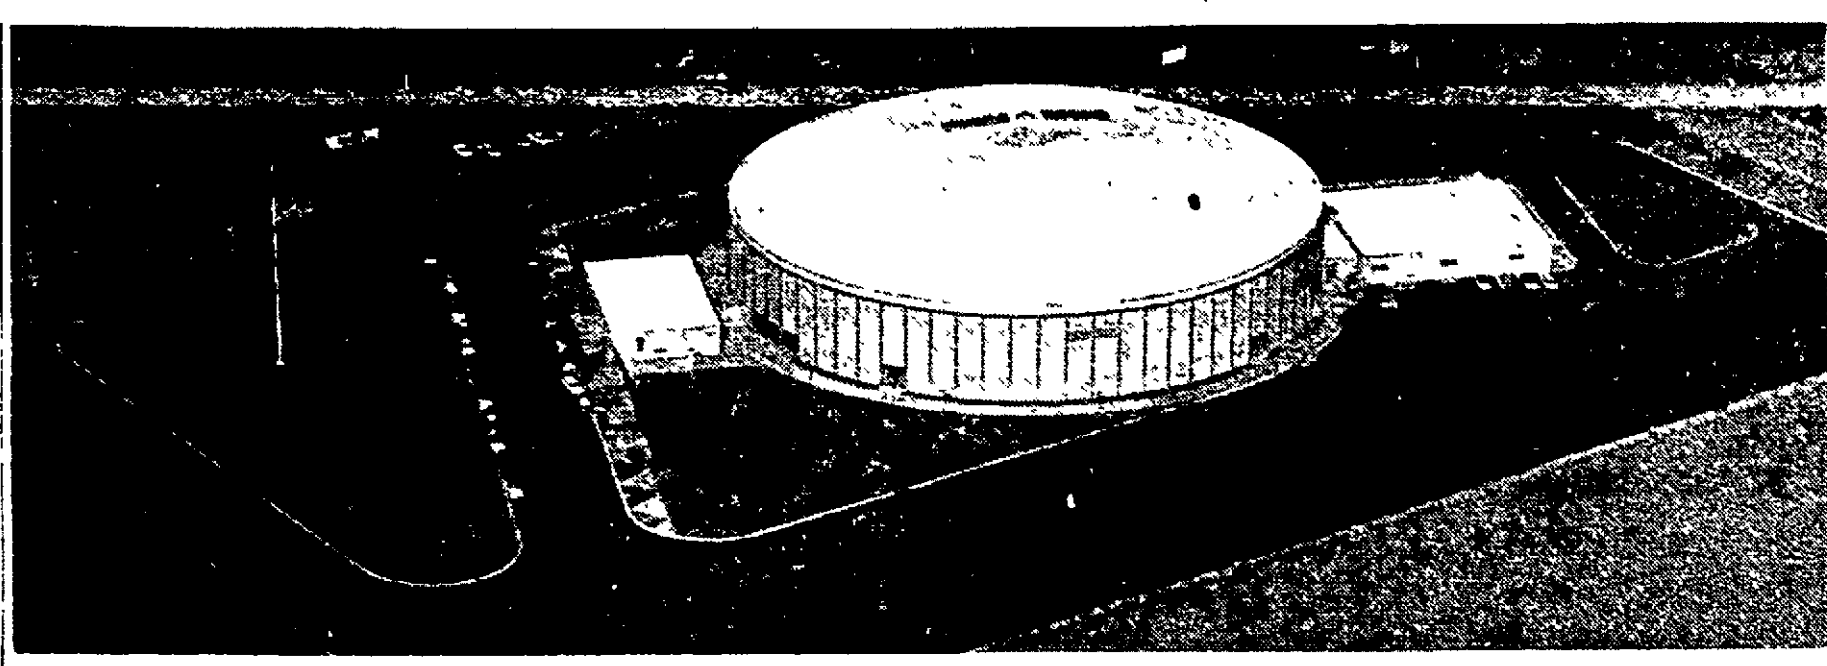

Although Mort appeared in three World Series, he won only two of five games. But one of those came in 1943 and was the only Cardinal decision as the New York Yankees regained the championship.

Mort allowed only six hits and beat the Yanks, 4-3, in a duel with Ernie Bonham. Brother Walker caught the game. The Coopers' father had died that morning.

Mort spent eight years with the Cardinals. He also pitched for the Boston Braves, New York Giants and Chicago Cubs before ending his career in 1949.

He had made his home at Houston the last five years where he was connected with a boys camp.

Survivors include his wife and a son. The funeral will be at Independence, Mo.

tried four rushes in the next eight plays, which was a switch. Besides the four rushes, which gained 20 yards, there were one pass completion (for four yards), one incompletion (over Max McGee's head for a lost TD), one punt and, blast it again, one interception.

Extent of Action

That was the extent of the action in the crucial third quarter when the score was 13-7 — a total of 17 offensive plays broken down as follows: Five pass completion for 35 yards, four incompletions, three interceptions, four rushes for 20 yards, and one punt.

What's with the Packers' offensive blocking? The rushing total of 81 doesn't indicate much blocking. The Bays' aerial total, 223 yards, shows that Parilli was getting reasonably good protection.

One phase of offense—in this case, the passing—can't succeed without some of the other, which was the rushing ... one opens up the other.

The Rams went into Sunday's game with a 6.0-yard rushing average; the Packers 3.5. Compare those figures to Sunday's results: The Rams average 3.77 rushing on 35 attempts. The Packers averaged 3.68 on their 22 rushes. LA then was cut well down to average rushing size; the Packers slightly over their average. Try that for irony.

'58 Season Is Blackest In Michigan History

Wolves, Spartans Have Wretched Years; Daugherty-Munn Split Is Rumored

BY DAVE DILES

Detroit — Michigan no longer is champion of the west, and the term "splendid Spartans" no longer fits Michigan State.

For no matter what these two teams do in their final games Saturday, the 1958 season will be remembered as the blackest in the state's football history.

Michigan is one of the schools that made people say that the best college football in the world is played in the Big Ten. When Michigan State went big time under "Biggie" Munn in the late

Munn Daugherty

1940s, the Spartans enhanced the state's reputation as the birthplace of champions.

Has Most Titles

Michigan's Wolverines have been playing collegiate football since 1879 and their upstate rivals started in 1896. Michigan has won more Big Ten football titles than any other school.

Unless Michigan defeats Ohio State next Saturday—and the Buckeyes are favored by at least two touchdowns—this will be Michigan's worst record in 23 years.

Michigan State is favored over Kansas State, and unless the Spartans come through with a victory this will be their worst campaign since 1917 when they failed to win in nine starts.

Michigan's 2-5-1 record comes as no great surprise since most everyone predicted this would be an off-year for the Wolverines. Michigan says it is rebuilding and has promoted backfield coach "Bump" Elliott to the head coaching job, succeeding the retiring Bennie Oosterbaan.

"Duffy" Daugherty himself said this would be another fine year for State, and Spartan followers believed him. That is what makes Michigan State's 2-5-1 record so bad and now there is talk of a major split between Daugherty and Athletic Director Munn, the man Duffy replaced.

The genial Irishman manages to joke occasionally about State's collapse: "Last year we won eight and lost only one with the same coaching staff. The coaches made the same mistakes this season we made last season—but the 1957 team was good enough to cover them up for us."

Even the University of Detroit, the state's third major college, has collapsed. The Titans announced a couple of seasons ago they were once again aiming for the big time, but they have a 3-4-1 record and reports are circulating that Coach Wally Fromhart is on his way out.

Optimists always say things could be worse, but at the moment football fans around the state of Michigan don't know how.

Kennedy was clocked in 24 minutes, 21.6 seconds for the 5-mile race over hill and dale, finishing about 300 yards ahead of Notre Dame's Ron Gregory.

Gregory was a yard ahead of St. John's Peter the defending champion. Close who was followed by Monday won the IC4A cross country championship at Van Cortlandt park.

NFL Owners Vote Against Move to Reduce Player Draft

Philadelphia — (AP) — Commissioner Bert Bell's effort to reduce the National Football league's annual player draft from 30 to 25 per team has failed for lack of unanimous consent of all 12 clubs.

"It takes only one vote to kill such a proposal at an executive meeting," Bell told the Associated Press today. "and there already have been two or three against with not everybody replying yet."

First Five Rounds

The NFL will hold its winter meeting here Dec. 1 and draw the first five rounds of the annual draft.

George Preston Marshall, owner of the Washington Redskins, said in Washington he would propose a draft cut at the NFL meeting next January.

He said clubs that voted against the reduction to 25 "certainly were ill advised, or maybe it was lack of experience." He added: "I don't believe 25 would satisfy the problem. I still think it should be reduced to 10."

Chicago — (AP) — Fullback Bob White of Ohio State today led the Big Ten all-games football scoring parade following his 3-touchdown show in Saturday's 38-28 Buckeye victory over Iowa.

Wisconsin's Dale Hackbart is fourth with eight touchdowns and 2 extra points for a total of 50.

Dillman Must Face Charge in Slaying

Judge Refuses Motion to Dismiss Case; Violation of Rights Claimed

(Pictures on B-1)

Oshkosh — Motions to dismiss a second degree murder charge against Vernon R. Dillman, 22, Oshkosh, on grounds his constitutional rights were violated were denied this morning by Municipal Judge S. J. Luchsing.

Dillman is charged in the death of Miss Ruth Schmidt, 17, Oshkosh, whose decomposed body was found Oct. 28 east of Omro. The murder was alleged to have happened either late in the night of Aug. 15 or early the next morning.

Dillman left Oshkosh two days later and was apprehended this month in Nebraska, where he was picked up while hitchhiking. He was AWOL from military service at that time.

Denied Rights, Claimed

William E. Crane, court-appointed attorney for Dillman, contended Dillman had been denied due process of law when he was apprehended in Nebraska and upon his return to Wisconsin.

He said Dillman was returned to Wisconsin on a warrant which did not charge him with murder. Instead of being returned directly to Winnebago county, he was taken first to Dane county where he was given a lie detector test at the state crime laboratory.

Crane also declared Dillman had not been taken into court in Nebraska and was not taken into court here until Nov. 10. These acts, he said, were violations of Dillman's constitutional rights and upon such grounds the complaint of murder against him should be dismissed.

All evidence taken during Dillman's lengthy detention should be suppressed if the court does not dismiss the murder charge, the defense attorney contended. Judge Luchsing denied these requests.

Dist. Atty. Jack Steinhilber told the court Dillman returned to the state voluntarily and agreed of his own free will to take the lie detector test. Dillman was returned to

Classmate Testifies

The second witness, Marilyn Ruedinger, 18, Oshkosh, a classmate of Ruth, said she saw Miss Schmidt and Dillman at the Char-Bar that night, but she refused to accompany them when they left together and that she did not know where they had gone or how they had left.

Another witness, Nellie Ann Zielh, Oshkosh, testified she had seen Ruth Schmidt after 8:30 at the Char-Bar but had not seen Dillman. Peter Litjens, Oshkosh, testified he had seen Ruth Schmidt at the Char-Bar with a "tall guy."

Litjens said he saw Miss Schmidt leave with the man and get in a car. He could not identify Dillman, however.

Mrs. John Vanderlohn, Omro, a bartender at Beck's bar in Omro, said Miss Schmidt and Dillman came into the bar between 10 and 12 p.m. on Aug. 15 and left at the owner's request because Miss Schmidt was underage.

Willis Stein, Oshkosh, related he and two friends found Miss Schmidt's body on the sandpit road on Oct. 28, while hunting.

Fred Rasmussen, of the Winnebago county police department, the last witness to testify during the morning hearing, gave a description of the body and identifying clothing and jewelry. He said the body was not visible from the road.

900 Empty Jars

Appleton Man's Gag Pays; Wins Space Flight to Moers

Arliss French, 1930 N. Richmond street, originally bargained for a space flight to Mars but he's going to be satisfied with a jet flight to Moers, Germany.

By accepting the challenge of a Burma Shave roadside sign, "Free, free a trip to Mars for 900 empty jars," he's won himself the 12-day tongue-in-cheek journey to Europe by Pan American jet airliner.

The Burma Shave people, when he first accepted the challenge, replied, "If a trip to Mars you'd earn, remember, friend, there's no return."

Still Collects

Undaunted, he continued collecting empty jars at the Red Owl store where he is manager. What could the Burma Shave people do when he notified them of the complete collection?

Well, first off, they booked his passage and arranged television interviews in New York, both as he leaves and returns from two days in London and four in Moers.

Second, they imposed one qualification on French's journey—he'll have to wear a space suit on his flight to Moers.

Friends may call after 7 p.m. today at the Jansen Funeral home, Kimberly, where the rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today and Wednesday.

Survivors include one son, Louis H. Weyenberg, Kimberly; two brothers, Henry and William Kilsdonk, both of Dar-boy; three sisters, Miss Josephine Kilsdonk and Mrs. Rose VanDenBoogaard, both of Dar-boy; and Sister M. Verina, Racine; two grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

She was born in the town of St. Lawrence, Waupaca county, May 26, 1880.

Funeral services will be at Scandinavia Lutheran church at 2 p.m. Thursday. Friends may call at the Voie Funeral home, Iowa, from Wednesday until Thursday noon.

Architect Says It's Possible to Build Atop Police Garage

Construction of a second story to the police station's garage addition is possible, Architect Raymond N. Le Vee informed Mayor Mitchell today.

The board of public works asked the mayor to learn whether footings and supports would take a second story after Chief of Police Hendricks said he needs more space.

Establishment of the juvenile bureau and addition of men over the years has overcrowded the present station, the chief said.

Man Injured by Falling Feather-Sign, That Is

A red feather sign today blew off the canopy of the I. C. Prange store, crashed through the window of a parked car and injured an Oshkosh man.

Douglas Grosnick, about 35, was taken to St. Elizabeth hospital with possible eye injuries.

The large wooden sign splintered the front windshield of Grosnick's car and hit him across the eyes.

The sign depicting a red feather, emblem of the Appleton Community Fund, indicates the amount of money collected during the campaign.

Officials, Parents, Youth Praised for Halloween Behavior

Edward J. Byrne, Appleton Lions club president, today wrote Mayor Mitchell commending the police and recreation departments, the school system and parents for the quiet Halloween this year.

"We should be mindful," he added, "that the fine attitude which is traditional among the large majority of our youth must have acted as a deterrent to those inclined to be otherwise."

$12 Million Electric Generating Unit Starts Operation at Green Bay Plant

Green Bay — The largest single electric generating unit ever built by Wisconsin Public Service corporation was placed into regular service here today, according to Harold P. Taylor, president of the utility.

The unit—seventh to be installed at the Pulliam Steam Electric Generating plant in Green Bay—is rated at 75,000 kilowatts. It required over two years to complete and cost $12,100,000. Previously, the largest generator was Pulliam plant's sixth unit of 62,500 kilowatt capacity.

The addition hikes the total generating capacity of Pulliam plant to 267,500 kilowatts, and raises total plant investment to $37,200,000. As recent as 1943, capacity was 20,000 kilowatts.

Another Building

Construction of still another 75,000 kilowatt coal-burning unit was started last May at the utility's Weston plant on the Wisconsin river in Marathon county. Completion of this unit in 1960 will increase public service's total system capacity to 490,500 kilowatts.

Taylor pointed out that during 1958—the 75th anniversary year—public service had more new plant construction in progress than in any other year in the company's history. The new unit will be the most efficient performer in steam at higher pressure, according to G. S. Meyrick, vice president, power generation and engineering.

An important part of the new installation is an electrostatic fly ash collector capable of removing about 25 tons per day. Collected fly ash is delivered to a 400-ton storage silo from whence it is shipped to all parts of the country for use as a concrete additive. The discovery that fly ash is beneficial in making concrete has helped solve the fly ash disposal problem which has long vexed the power plant operators.

An innovation at Pulliam plant is the installation of a closed-circuit television system. A TV camera in constant use sends a picture of the boiler water gauge to a monitor screen where it can be checked by the operator. Formerly, this vital observation relied on a complicated system of mirrors mounted adjacent to the other five boilers in the plant.

Work on Deed To Give City Park for Pool

Consolidated Water Power and Paper company's attorney and the city attorney are drafting a deed to give the city Interlake park for a swimming pool site.

E. A. Starks, assistant treasurer of Consolidated, told Mayor Mitchell in a letter today the deed will be turned over as soon as it is complete.

The city council Oct. 1 authorized negotiations for the 7.5-acre tract after being told Consolidated would give the land free, with one restriction: A pool must be built on it.

Consolidated presently leases the park to the city for $1 a year. It is used for the only lighted softball diamond in Appleton.

Members of the council's special pool committee have said they favor a T-shaped pool like Neenah's. Mayor Mitchell has said the pool will cost about $250,000.

Talk of a pool on the south side began in spring, 1957, when it was proposed to put an indoor pool in the Madison Junior High school. Councilmen turned down the idea and later appointed a committee to investigate outdoor pool possibilities on the south side.

Four sites have been suggested and rejected.

Share Price Trend Lower

Declines Range From Fractions To About 2 Points

New York — The stock market backed away quietly early this afternoon from the latest push to record highs.

Leading issues fell fractions to about two points. Scattered stocks bucked the trend with gains running to about a point.

Brokers said the decline looked like one more consolidation period in the market's 7-month climb to a succession of new peaks. The average has posted historic highs in five of the past six sessions.

The general run of business news was regarded as a bit less optimistic than recently.

Some losses were trimmed as the session continued. Goodyear trimmed about a point from a 3-point setback. U. S. Steel reduced a 1-point loss to a fraction. United Fruit pared an early 3-point loss a bit.

Eastman Kodak, after rebounding about two, weakened and showed a net loss of over a point.

General Instrument was down well over a point.

National Distillers raced ahead about two points.

Kennecott and Pfizer were off a point or more.

U. S. government bonds were steady.

Do Your Christmas Shopping Early... and Easily — Give Stock for Christmas

A gift of common stocks, or other securities, for Christmas is one that will continue giving through dividends, for years.

Isn't there someone special who'd really thrill to owning shares in American industry... a young person just starting on the job... a couple beginning married life?

Stocks are wonderful Christmas presents for children, or grandchildren, too. And Wisconsin law makes it easy to purchase securities for minors under a simple custodianship.

Why not give us a call or drop in to learn more about giving securities for Christmas? We'll be glad to help you... and remember, it's wise to do this shopping early in order to be certain that the certificates will be ready for Christmas giving.

No Reason Why Hagerly Can't 'Leak' Stories

Administrations Can Give News to Whom They Please

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

Washington — Times certainly have changed since the days when newspapermen took pride in getting a scoop and when their competitors recognized such enterprise and thought it was unmanlike to cry "leak."

Nowadays when the press secretary of the president of the United States claims — as he did on the television Sunday — the privilege of giving out news to whichever correspondents he wants to help with background, this is sarcastically referred to as a leak — as something he shouldn't do.

Never in the recollection of this correspondent has the chief presidential secretary, dealing with news been regarded as a minor official, but as a principal — as much the government as if he were the head of a department in the executive branch.

Nor is any president forbidden by any rule to give out information to selected individuals in the press except as he may impose a restraint on himself due to a reluctance to face the protesting cries of the other newsmen.

Opposition Papers

President Theodore Roosevelt used to have a group of friendly newsmen around him all the time, and when it came to giving out scoops, he usually favored the writers from newspapers whose editorial policies were in opposition to him. He used to say frankly that, if he couldn't get a break in the editorial pages of such newspapers, he at least had a right to get one in their news columns.

Last Sunday, when Presidential Press Sec. Hagerly was quizzed on a television show about leaks and background information, the inference of one of his interrogators was that a presidential secretary doesn't have the right to give out background information or even leak stories to any reporter he chooses.

But, oddly enough, this practice thrives on Capitol Hill, and it is not easy to trace the leaks or the background stories that come from individual senators or congressmen whose views are thus disseminated anonymously on many controversial questions of the day. Nor do many correspondents at the capital feel that a catastrophe has happened if one of their number gets an occasional scoop because of friendliness with certain news sources.

Planted Stories

There is, of course, always the planted story, which happens when the newspaperman himself hasn't the slightest hint ahead of time about the news which is given him. He is selected for the artificial scoop either because his past

Blind Canine Still Able to Perform Service

Houston, Texas — Taffy, 8-year-old canine, would never win a dog show. He has only three legs, he's partly blind and something happened to his tail long ago.

He was out on the sidewalk Saturday when a milkman, James A. Kirkpatrick, 50, stopped to make his delivery. Kirkpatrick entered the re-entitled to give out news for the government as if he were the head of a department in the executive branch.

The milkman began beating on the door and yelling. And Taffy began to set up a commotion.

Mrs. Lamar Parish, the dog's owner, looked out to see himself due to a reluctance to face the protesting cries of the closed truck and heard Kirkpatrick's calls.

"Lady, I'm sure glad you well used to have a group of were home," the driver gasped as he stumbled out. Taffy limped on her way came to giving out scoops, he usually favored the writers from newspapers whose editorial policies were in opposition to him.

per is prominent or has a big circulation, or because he can be trusted to keep his mouth shut as to where and how he got the exclusive story.

Thus it was to the interest of the late Democratic administration to leak to a New York newspaper — which printed it in full — the actual transcript of the conversation at Wake Island in 1950 between President Truman and Gen. MacArthur. The general had not known till he read it in the newspapers that a stenographer had been listening at a keyhole.

This is an example of a planted leak, but curiously enough very little furor was raised by the right to know organizations of those days, as it still was considered a good scoop for the newspaper that got it, unethical though it happened to be for the administration that resorted to the trick.

The right of an administration even to put out a planted story, however, cannot be denied, though, if present tendencies continue, this sort of thing, too, may eventually be controlled by the right to know laws and regulations currently espoused. Maybe in the days to come nobody will ever need to fear being scooped or feel against the pressure to get a scoop.
